END OF MARTIAL LAW IN KENTUCKY.

The President of the United States, to-day, issued the following proclamation:

Whereas—By a proclamation of the 5th day of July, 1864, the President of the United States, when the civil war was flagrant, and when combinations were in progress in Kentucky for the purpose of inciting insurgent raids into that State, directed that the proclamation suspending the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus should be made effectual in Kentucky, and that martial law should be established there and continued until said proclamation should be revoked or modified; and whereas, since then the danger from insurgent raids into Kentucky has substantially passed away, now, therefore, be it known that I, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the constitution, do hereby declare that the said proclamation of the fifth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, shall be and is hereby modified in so far that martial law shall be no longer in force in Kentucky from and after the date hereof.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this twelfth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand [L. S.] eight hundred and sixty-five, and of the independence of the United States of America the ninetieth. ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President:
W. HUNTER, Acting Secretary of State.

FREEDMEN IN KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE.

Gen. FISK, Commissioner of Freedmen for the States of Kentucky and Tennessee, under date of Nashville, Oct. 6, makes a very interesting report on the present condition of the freedmen in his department, from which we quote. It shows conclusively that the workings of the bureau have accomplished the most beneficial results. He says:

"Subsequent to my last general report, I have visited many important points in the district, and brought the good intentions of the bureau to the knowledge of thousands of people, white and colored, who had heretofore but vague notions of its existence and objects. I am pleased to report continued improvement in the workings of the bureau, and an earnest desire on the part of a majority of the people that our agencies should be extended. I have devoted myself especially to the breaking up of all freedmen's camps, refugee homes and hospitals. I resolved to make a clean sweep of them before the Winter months came upon us, and am able at this date to report decided progress. The Nashville, Memphis, President Island, Clarksville, Louisville, Paducah, Columbus, Gallatin, Hendersonville, Murfreesboro, Pulaski, Tunnel Hill and Chattanooga camps, homes and hospitals are all closed. The great majority of those who have been the recipients of the government bounty have been established in good homes in the country. They are at work for good wages. The exodus from crowded cities and towns has been large, and I trust that Christmas will find but few unemployed people within the limits of my district. The freedmen are becoming daily better advised touching their new relations, rights and privileges, and recognize the importance of industry, economy and the acquirements of virtuous intelligence. Let them be accorded even-handed justice, and they will work out their own salvation. County and municipal officers are required to provide for their own poor, and care for their own sick. In order to close out my hospitals, the sick who were on my hands I am providing for in private families, as I desired to close every door through which cities and counties are thrusting their sick and poor upon the charities of the government. On Sept. 2, 979 persons were subsisted by the government within the State of Tennessee. During the month the entire number have been disposed of, and at this date not one ration is issued by the Freedmen's Bureau in Tennessee."

GOV. HUMPHREYS' PARDON SIGNED.

The pardon warrant of Gov. HUMPHREYS, of Mississippi, was countersigned at the State Department today, and will be forwarded to Gov. SHARKEY.

MARTIAL LAW IN KENTUCKY ABOLISHED.

Gen. THOMAS, commanding the Department of the Tennessee, arrived here this morning, and had a long interview with the Secretary of War, and afterward with the President. Much of the time was occupied in discussing the Kentucky situation, and it was determined to abolish martial law in Kentucky, and the President will this evening issue his proclamation accordingly.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of internal revenue to-day were $882,174 81.

A SMALL ATTEMPT AT SHOOTING.

An affray occurred at the President's house this afternoon. A man somewhat inebriated called and desired to see the President. He was boisterous, and Officer CROOK refused him admission up stairs. He became very disorderly and was put out of the executive mansion. When about fifty feet from the door he turned and drew a revolver on the officer, when the guard made a lunge at him with his bayonet, and he was captured and taken before Justice WALTER, who fined him the enormous sum of twenty-five dollars for carrying concealed weapons. Having no money he was committed. He gave his name as ROBBINS SUMNER, and said he was a brother of Gen. SUMNER. He comes from Alexandria, and his name is probably an alias.

PARDONS.

The President to-day granted two hundred and forty pardons of the twenty thousand dollar class.

POSSESSION OF THE SEA ISLANDS.

The following order respecting the disputed possession of the Sea Islands of Georgia and Florida, which were set apart by Gen. SHERMAN for occupation by the freedmen during his great campaign, has been issued:

WAR DEPARTMANT, ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9, 1865.

GENERAL ORDER No. 145.—Whereas, Certain tracts of land situated on the coast of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, at the time for the most part vacant, were set apart by Major-Gen. W. T. SHERMAN'S Special Field Order No. 15 for the benefit of refugees and freedmen that had been congregated by the operations of war, or had been left to take care of themselves by their former owners; and whereas, an expectation was thereby created that they would be able to retain possession of said lands; and whereas, a large number of the former owners are earnestly soliciting the restoration of the same, and promising to absorb the labor and care for the freedmen, it is ordered that Major-Gen. HOWARD, Commissioner of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, proceed to the several above-named States and endeavor to effect an arrangement mutually satisfactory to the freedmen and the land owners and make report, and in case a mutually satisfactory arrangement can be effected, he is duly empowered and directed to issue such orders as may become necessary after a full and careful investigation of the interests of the parties concerned.

By order of the President of the United States.
E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adjutant-General.

TRANSPORTING GOODS IN BOND.

The Secretary of the Treasury has under consideration a plan to amend the warehouse system so as to permit goods to be transported in bond from the Atlantic cities to the Pacific Coast.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 12.

GENERAL COURT-MARTIAL.

The Navy Department has ordered a general court-martial to convene in Washington on the 1st of November, composed of the following officers: Vice-Admiral D. G. Farragut, Rear-Admiral Hiram Pauiding, Rear-Admiral Charles H. Davis, Rear-Admiral J. A. Dahlgren, Commodore Missroon, Commodore Thomas Turner, Commodore James S. Palmer, Commodore J. A. Winslow, Capt. S. P. Lee, Capt. M. Smith, Capt. James Alden. As this is a solid court, it is conjectured that persons high on the navy list are to come before it; but their names are not promulgated.

THE WIRZ TRIAL.

It appears to have been assumed from the report of the proceedings in the Wirz case on Saturday last, that the position of the Judge-Advocate on the point of excluding as witnesses for the defence prominent rebel officers on the ground of incompetency by reason of their having been engaged in rebellion, was ruled on and sustained by the commission. Such was not the fact. The counsel for the accused, in reply to an inquiry by the President of the court, stated that he would not insist on the attendance of those witnesses, and there the matter ended, the President stating that there was nothing before the court for decision on that point.

THE PETITION FOR JEFF. DAVIS.

The committee appointed by the late South Carolina Convention to intercede in behalf of JEFFERSON DAVIS, had an interview with the President to-day.

PERSONAL.

Major-Gen. THOMAS, to whom was referred the case of Gen. PALMER for investigation, arrived here to-day.

SOUTHERN MAIL LETTINGS.

Preparations are now making for the great Southern mail lettings. The department is ready and willing to revive all the former accommodations, but there is difficulty in finding suitable men who have not been engaged in rebellion, and who can take the prescribed oath.

THE MECHANICS' CONVENTION.

The Mechanics' Convention last night adopted an address to the working men of the United States in advocacy of the eight hour system.

A MERCHANT'S EXCHANGE.

A large number of merchants have taken preliminary measures for the establishment of a Merchant's Exchange.

THE POPULATION OF WASHINGTON.

The population of Washington is now estimated at over 125,000.

RETURN OF GEN. GRANT.

Lieut.-Gen. GRANT has returned, and it is understood that he is now prepared to carry out the plan, already agreed upon, for the reduction of the army to a standard required only for the ordinary condition of the country in times of tranquility at home and peace abroad.

THE WIRZ MILITARY COMMISSION.

A Letter from the Captain—Further Examination of Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 12.

The Wirz Military Commission reassembled today.

Mr. Schade, counsel for the prisoner, read from the letter book of Capt. Wirz the following:

HEADQUARTERS COMMANDER OF PRISONERS,
CAMP SUMTER, June 6, 1864.

CAPTAIN: I must respectfully call the attention of the Colonel commanding the post, through you, to the following facts:

The bread which is issued to prisoners is of such an inferior quality, consisting of one-eighth husk, that it is almost unfit for use, and it is increasing the dysentery and other bowel complaints.

I would wish that the commissary of the post be notified to have the meal bolted, or some other contrivance arranged to sift the meal before is suing it. If the meal, such as is now used, was sifted, the bread rations would fall short fully one-quarter of a pound.

There is a great deficiency of buckets. Rations of rice, beans, vinegar and molasses cannot be issued to prisoners for the want of buckets, at least 8,000 men being in the stockade without anything of the sort. If my information is correct, any number of buckets can be got from Columbus, Ga., if the Quartermaster of the post would make the requisition for the same.

Hoping that you will give this your attention as soon as possible. I remain, Captain, most respectfully your obedient servant. H. WIRZ,
Captain Commanding Prison.

Capt. A. D. CHAPMAN, A. Adjutant of the Post.

Judge-Advocate Chipman objected to this letter being received as evidence, on the ground that the prisoner could not testify in his own behalf. The government, however, would allow the natural inference from his acts whether favorable or otherwise. The Judge also referred to the agreement heretofore made between himself and Counsel, that the letter book of Capt. Wirz was to be put in evidence subject to any proper objection.

Mr. Schade also read the following from the same letter-book:

HEADQUARTERS COMMANDER OF PRISONERS,
CAMP SUMTER, Feb. 26, 1865.

SIR: I have the honor to call your attention to the following facts. There are at this post a large number of paroled prisoners of war who are doing work for the government, which if not done by them would have to be done by impressment or hire, and thus be a heavy expense to the government. These men are almost without exception barefooted, having been so long at work that what shoes they have are entirely worn out.

I wish to know if I cannot be authorized to make a requisition on the Quartermaster's Department to supply their wants in this line, or else buy the leather through the quartermaster, and have the shoes made, as there are plenty of shoemakers among the prisoners.

Recommending the statement to your favorable consideration, I am, Sir, very respectfully your obedient servant, H. WIRZ,
Captain Commanding Prison.

G. W. McPHAIL, A. D. C. and A. A. G.

Judge-Advocate Chipman made the same objection to this letter as he did to the first one, but the court refused to sustain the objection.

Mr. Baker desired that the prosecution would conclude the examination of their remaining witnesses, in order that the defence might have the remaining time without interruption.

The court said that Mr. Baker had heretofore agreed that the prosecution should introduce witnesses after the defence commenced, and now he wanted to cut off the Judge-Advocate from the privilege granted. Nothing was more frequent than to examine witnesses that way, in the way of accommodation to both sides.

The Judge-Advocate said that he had subpenaed other witnesses, who would be here in a day or two. They were not so important to the defendant as to the general charge.

Col. G. F. Ruffin testified that he resided near Richmond, and during the war was a Lieutenant-Colonel in the Subsistence Department of the Confederate States army. There was a deficiency of commissary supplies, and from the beginning of the war more or less scarcity. He would not say that any one was on the point of starvation, but that there was much privation; 30,000 barrels of flour had accumulated at Richmond in the Spring of 1864, but the whole of that reserved was consumed by the Union prisoners. Therefore the army of Gen. Lee had to subsist on corn bread, the meal having to be brought mainly from Georgia. At Coal Harbor vegetables were so scarce that Gen. Lee made an urgent application for them to the War Department. The men, for want of vegetables, were suffering from scurvy, diarrhea, etc. Their recovery was necessary in order that they might return to the field. The Commissary Department then imported onions from the Island of Bermuda, through the blockade.

The witness also testified that supplies were short through the entire South, for reasons which he stated.

Cross-examined by Col. Chipman—Witness knew nothing about the Andersonville Prison, but the prisoners were removed from Richmond because supplies were principally drawn from Georgia; he did not know that any of the Confederate soldiers starved because of an insufficiency of food, but he had heard that some of them lost their lives because of its unwholesomeness.

R. H. Kellogg, who had testified for the prosecution, was called for the defence.

Q.—During the time that you were at Andersonville, did you ever hear or know of Capt. Wirz kicking, striking or shooting a man so that he died? A.—I did not.

Cross-examined.—Wirz had a character for cruelty and brutality, and was profane and insulting to the prisoners. They were badly treated and naturally supposed that he was responsible for the abuses. Sherman's raiders, who had been brought in, were robbed of nearly everything they had; some had on merely shirts and pants; witness did not say that Capt. Wirz did not kill or shoot any one, but that he did not see him do it.

At the suggestion of Judge-Advocate Chipman, the cross-examination of the witness was suspended, in order that the book written by Mr. Kellogg relative to the sufferings of and cruelties to the Union prisoners at Andersonville could be sent for.

Major S. B. French, an officer in the Confederate Commissary Department, testified to the deficiency of supplies in the Winter of 1863 and Spring of 1864; the rations in the army were reduced and vegetables imported from Bermuda through the blockade; for five months preceding the evacuation of Richmond there was never ten days' supplies on hand or the army of Gen. Lee; Gen. Lee complained of the reduction of the ration.

Cross-examined—Witness said that it was owing to the want of transportation facilities that corn was scarce in Richmond; they did not import wheat flour; he knew nothing about Andersonville; the meal furnished to the army of Gen. Lee was not bolted.

By the Court—Gen. Lee had bread every day, but several times telegraphed to Richmond that he was without meat; in such instances the people of Richmond would collect a supply; Gen. Lee informed him (witness) that he had frequently been prevented from moving because of not having subsistence for his army.

Dr. Ray was recalled for the defence: Capt. Wirz, he said, was sick two-thirds, if not the whole of September; he had never dressed in the Andersonville hospital the wound of a man who had been wounded with a pistol or revolver; witness said he told Capt. Wirz that he ought to have his right arm treated, but the Captain thought it would get well by his own treatment, he being himself a doctor.

Capt. Wirz, at the request of Mr. Baker, here stood and exposed his right arm, which is much swollen and inflamed.

Dr. Ray, after looking at the arm, said that it was as bad as the first day he saw it; he looked on it as a gangrenous ulcer; two of the fingers were disabled then as now; he thought the prisoner could not strike anybody with that arm or with anything in it; he might feebly defend himself, but could not grapple any one with that arm.

Cross-examined—Witness had never seen the prisoner in any belligerent position. He judged of the condition of Capt. Wirz's arm from the appearance of it. He examined the arm for the first time in September, 1864, but had no idea what caused the wound. Capt. Wirz, during that month, came to the prison whenever he could, probably once or twice a week.

Mr. Kellogg here returned with a copy of his book and resumed his place on the stand.

Question by Col. Chipman—Did I understand you to mean by saying you never heard of certain things having been done by Capt. Wirz that such things did not occur? A.—Not by any means. We understood that Capt. Wirz was a brutal, cruel and overbearing man.

The witness further said that after the six "raiders" were hanged they had a season of comparative peace, but the prisoners soon learned to look on the "regulators" as equally bad; it was "diamond cut diamond;" they were the same class of men; the "regulators" did good at first by hanging the "raiders."

Col. Chipman intended, but did not examine the witness as to any part of the book.

J. W. Armstrong, Jr., of Macon, Ga., a Captain in the Commissary's office of the Confederate service, testified that when he first went to Andersonville the rations issued to the Confederate soldiers and the Union prisoners were the same; several Boards of Survey condemned the food there; Capt. Wirz had nothing to do with the commissary supplies, except to receive them; Wirz made a remonstrance against the quality of the food; Wirz was sick in July; how long, he could not say, but he was out of his bed; witness knew nothing about Wirz being sick in August, as he left the post the first of that month; he never heard of Capt. Wirz beating or shooting a prisoner so that he died, nor did he ever hear of a Confederate soldier obtaining a furlough for shooting a Union prisoner.

Cross-examined—He did not know whether the same rations he delivered at the post were supplied to the prisoners; he had not so much difficulty in procuring subsistence as transportation; he would not be familiar with the matter of issuing furloughs if it had been done.

Dr. Bates, who had testified for the prosecution, was examined for the defence.

The witness said that he might say that they had no medicines at the prison; the Surgeons were not permitted to prescribe, excepting by the numbers, the remedies having been previously prepared from roots and berries and designated for various diseases; vaccine virus was a poison even in the normal system, and its insertion produced deleterious effects; such was the depraved condition of the system, owing to the filth and insufficient and unwholesome food and the absence of shelter, that the slightest abrasion of the skin produced gangrene; as a case in point he said that a prisoner accidentally struck his comrade with his elbow while they were lying together; by this the skin was abraided near the teeth; in three hours gangrene set in, and in three days the man died.

The witness characterized the country around Andersonville as a poverty-stricken section, ten acres being required to produce a bale of cotton, and only four or five bushels of corn raised to an acre.

Cross-examined—Comparing the prisons at Macon and Andersonville, he gave the preference to the latter, where he himself was confined, having been arrested in August, 1864; he did not know for what he was arrested, and he was going, "if he could," to find out—but he was discharged under a writ of habeas corpus issued at Petersburgh; while he was at Andersonville, he said if they would give him proper diet, room and cleanliness, he would make no further requisitions for medicines; the vaccination took place prior to his being on duty at Andersonville; looking at the peculiar susceptibility of the prisoners to disease, it became a serious matter with him (witness) whether he would have vaccinated them; if they took the small-pox it was certain death, but if he thought he could have saved even one in fifty, he should have resorted to vaccination; in other words, only to save life.

Maj. G. W. Proctor, of Kentucky, who was the rebel Post Commissary, testified that he never knew or heard of Capt. Wirz shooting or killing a man in any way; there was a deficiency of supplies at Andersonville.

The court then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Division of the Diocese of Pennsylvania—Debate on the Case of Dr. Wilmer, Bishop of Alabama.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 12.

The General Convention of the Episcopal Church reassembled at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Committee on New Dioceses recommended the passage of a resolution ratifying the division of the Diocese of Pennsylvania into two new dioceses, and the said division to take effect on the 1st of November, 1865.

It was stated unofficially that the sum of $35,000 had already been raised for the support of the Episcopate of the new Diocese.

Mr. OTIS, of Illinois, moved to amend the resolution so as to make the name of the new diocese, the "Diocese of Pittsburgh."

This caused a long discussion.

The order of the day, the case of Dr. WILMER, the Bishop of Alabama, was then resumed. A long discussion followed.

Dr. KERFOOT, of Connecticut, proposed the following as a substitute for the original motion:

Whereas, The Bishops have informed the house of their resolution expressing to Bishop WILMER their regret regarding his late pastoral address; therefore,

Resolved, That this house does hereby signify its concurrence in said acceptance, and declares its full participation in the spirit and intent of the resolution informally made known to this house.

Dr. KERFOOT took the ground that the South was right in what they did. They acted upon a fiction now passed away, thank God. But it was a fact to them, and they proceeded to organize the work of Christ. The peace of the Church and the peace of the nation demand the instant settlement of this question.

Ex-Gov. FISH, of New-York—I had intended to submit a resolution similar to the one just read, but with this addition:

Provided, however, that such acceptance of Right Rev. RICHARD H. WILMER, D.D., be not consummated, and that the consent to his acting as the Bishop of the Diocese of Alabama be not given until he shall have transmitted in writing (to be signed by him in the presence of any Bishop of this Church) to the presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops the promise of conformity comprised in the office for the consecration of Bishops, and shall also have transmitted to the said Presiding Bishop evidence authenticated in the fullest manner now practicable of his having been consecrated a Bishop of the Church of Christ, designating accurately the time and place of the same, with the names of the consecrating Bishops, and of others present and assisting, if any such others there were; which promise of conformity and letters or other evidence of consecration, shall be committed to the custody of the registrar of the General Convention, and shall be by him duly recorded; and that the Presiding Bishop be and is hereby empowered and requested to give due notice to the Church, so soon as the above-named conditions precedent shall have been fulfilled, certifying the recognition of Bishop WILMER as aforesaid to have become complete.

The concluding sentence of the above resolution was proposed by Rev. Dr. VINTON, and accepted by the Hon. Mr. FISH.

Dr. KERFOOT consented to the withdrawal of the second part of his resolution.

The question was put upon Gov. FISH's resolution, which was accepted by Dr. KERFOOT.

Gov. FISH's substitute was adopted with but one dissenting voice.

This disposed of the question to the extent that a message from the House of Bishops upon the same subject was not concurred in, the above resolution taking its place.

Rev. Dr. KERFOOT offered the following:

Resolved, That the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies heartily concur in the message of the House of Bishops, number 4, declaring the sympathy and admiration of this convention for the Bishop of Cape Town and his Provincial Bishops on their defence of the truth of the word of God.

The resolution was agreed to.

The consideration of the question as to the division of the Diocese of Pennsylvania was here resumed, and the resolution, as reported by the Committee on New Dioceses, was adopted.

Rev. Dr. VINTON, of New-York, presented the report of the committee appointed at the general convention of 1859, and continued by the convention of 1862, to consider the subject of the severance of the present General Theological Seminaries of the Protestant Episcopal Church from the control of the church, and of placing the same under the charge of the Diocese of New-York.

This report was finally made the order of the day for to-morrow, at 12 o'clock.

The convention then adjourned.

Interesting Religious Exercises—Consecration of Rev. Dr. Charles T. Quintard as Bishop of Tennessee—Imposing Ceremonies.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, Oct. 11, 1865.

The consecration of Rev. Dr. CHARLES TODD QUINTARD as Episcopal Bishop of the Diocese of Tennessee took place, agreeably to appointment, at St. Luke's Church, in Thirteenth-street, at 10 o'clock this morning. The exercises were both imposing and interesting. At an early hour the church was filled by those desirous of witnessing the ceremonies, and by the time the delegates of the Lower Houses of the convention had all taken their seats, the church was irrevocably crammed, not a seat to be had and scarcely standing room for those venturing within the doors of the church. The galleries were almost entirely filled with ladies.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the House of Bishops entered the middle aisle of the church, all robed in surplices. The procession was headed by Rev. Dr. Balch, Secretary of the House of Bishops, and Rev. Dr. Randall, Secretary of the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies. The Robers, Rev. Dr. Hobart, of New-York, and Rev. Dr. Harrison, of Tennessee. The Readers, Venerable Archdeacon Leach, of Montreal, Rev. Mr. Collins, Tennessee, and Rev. Alexander Burgess, D. D., Maine. The Readers of Credentials, Rev. Dr. Cummins, and Rev. Dr. Howe, Rector of St. Luke's. The Bishop elect, and the House of Bishops, in double ranks, and in reversed order of seniority. The procession was closed by the Senior Bishop and the Lord Bishop of Montreal.

After they had taken their seats within the spacious chancel of the church the services began. The appearance of the group of bishops, the leaders of the Episcopal Church, was most striking and picturesque. Their chaste and becoming robes, their venerable and intellectual countenances, all tended to invest the House of Bishops with interest. The venerable forms of Bishop POTTER, of New-York; Bishop SMITH, of Kentucky; and Bishop KEMPER, of Wisconsin, were easily distinguished from among their brethren.

The services were opened by Rev. Mr. COLLINS. The Venite followed, being chaunted antiphonally by the choir of clergymen, as were the Psalter, Te Deum, and Benedictus. The whole of the musical portion of the services were admirably rendered by the gentlemen composing the choir. It consisted of the following: Revs. J. S. B. Hodges, organist; Ormes B. Keith, George P. Schetky, A. B. Goodrich, J. L. McKim, F. L. Knight, George Bringhurst, M. L. Olds, L. Coleman, E. M. Pecke, H. P. Hay, Chauncey Vibbard, Albra Wadleigh, R. L. Goldsborough, W. B. Ashley, C. W. Rankin, J. P. Lundy, J. H. Hopkins, Jr., and J. F. Young.

The first lesson, 62d Isiah, was read by Archdeacon LEACH, and the second, 20th Acts, by Rev. Dr. BURGESS, who also read the morning prayer, when the 106th selection of Psalms was announced by Rev. Dr. HOWE, and was sung to the tune of "Mear" with thrilling effect, the body of the church being filled with melody.

The Ante-Communion Service was commenced by the Lord Bishop of Montreal, who read the Collect and Commandments. The special Collect and Epistle for the consecrative service were read by Bishop SMITH, of Kentucky. The gospel was read by Bishop KEMPER, of Wisconsin.

The 97th Hymn, "Go forth ye Heralds," was sung to the "Old Hundred," and the sermon was preached by Bishop STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, who took his text from 1 Corinthians, 11: 1, 2.

The sermon was a simple but powerful and eloquent exposition of the text. The reverend preacher declared that St. Paul, although dwelling among the polished and cultivated Corinthians, organized and established the Christian religion upon the simple basis of Christ crucified. He refused to plant it upon any wordly basis. He set aside the heathen philosophies and eschewed the ordinary methods by which human wisdom would have sought to win favor with his hearers and boldly declared the word of God.

During his sermon, Bishop STEVENS addressed the Bishop elect, enjoining upon him the earnest duty upon which he was about to enter, and concluded with a most eloquent exhortation to him to labor as a wise master-builder in the Church of God, and so prove himself worthy of the high office to which he had been called.

After the conclusion of Bishop STEVENS' sermon, the solemn and imposing Consecration Service commenced. The Bishop elect was presented by Bishops POTTER and LAY. The testimonials from the Diocese of Tennessee were read by Rev. Dr. CUMMINS. The testimonials from the House of Clerical and Lay Deputies by Rev. Secretary RANDALL, and the testimonials from the House of Bishops by Rev. Secretary BALCH. The consecration then proceeded as set forth in the Ordinal for the Consecration of Bishops. The Consecrating Bishops were the Lord Bishop of Montreal, Bishops HOPKINS, BURGESS, BEDELL, ODENHEIMER, STEVENS and COXE.

The entire service was one to be long remembered by all who witnessed it, and the occasion was one fraught with interest and importance in the history of the Church, as it marked the first step toward that reunion in the Church consequent upon the rapid march of events and the peace which now happily blesses our whole land. It is to be hoped that the occasion will strengthen that harmony which prevails in the convention, and be productive of beneficial results.

To-morrow the convention resumes its labors at St. Andrew's Church, when the discussion upon the admission of Bishop WILMER, of Alabama, will be resumed. The debate will no doubt be as important as that of yesterday. G. F. W.

Military Orders in Regard to Contracts—Railroads Transferred to State Control.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 12.

The steamer Cumbra, from Savannah on the 7th inst., has arrived here.

The steamer Idaho, from New-York, arrived at Savannah Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

The steamer America, from New-York for Savannah, arrived off Tybee Island on Sunday at noon.

The Savannah Herald, of the 7th inst., contains the following:

Gen. STEDMAN has issued a document that all orders relating to contracts between individuals, except those which interest freedmen, or determine the right, title or possession of property of any description whatever, except property owned or claimed by the government, are hereby suspended, and all officers on duty in this department are prohibited from adjudicating questions of contracts or conflicting claims to property, except when necessary to protect the rights and interests of the government.

The Georgia State Railroad was turned over to the State on the 25th ultimo. The United States very liberally proposed to furnish running stock, machinery, tools, etc. The commissioners took seven locomotives, two stationary engines, one hundred box cars, and fifty platform cars, and they could have obtained more had they asked for them. Car-shops and all necessary machinery were also secured. This stock is an advance made to the road by the government at prices exceedingly liberal. The commissioners have let out contracts for building fourteen bridges on the road, to be completed by the 15th of December. These contracts were all given to Georgians.

COTTON—The receipts of Upland cotton during the past week foot up 3,361 bales; Sea Island 88 bales, and domestics 246 bales. The exports during the same period were 7,642 bales of Upland, 90 bales of Sea Island, and 282 bales of domestics, leaving stock on hand and on ship-board, not cleared, of 1,424 bales of Upland and 20 bales of Sea Island. During the past week the cotton market has been very firm, and within the last few days the lower grades have advanced 2c.@3c. a pound, and the finer qualities from 1c.@2c. The offerings are unusually small. Good qualities meet with ready sales. In consequence of the low state of the rivers the receipts have been very light. Very few good fair lots are placed on the market. Ordinary we quote at 33c.@36c.; low Middling at 37c. @39c., and Middling 40c.@41c. Receipts since September 30, 1865: Uplands, 3,631 bales; Sea Island, 88 bales; domestic, 246 bales. Exports since September 30, 1865: Uplands, 23,482 bales; Sea Island, 1,402 bales; domestics, 2,600 bales. Stock on hand October 6, 1865: Uplands, 1,424 bales; Sea Island, 24 bales; domestics, 103 bales.

FROM MEXICO.

The Court in Mourning—Lieut. Maury Turned Mexican—Reported Juarist Reverses.

Intelligence has arrived from Mexico, by way of Havana, to the 30th ult.

The Imperial Court was ordered into mourning for seven days, for the death of the Grand Duchess SOPHIA, of Baden.

Lieut. MAURY, late a rebel official, has received from the Emperor MAXIMILIAN papers of naturalization. He is, therefore, now a Mexican citizen.

The story that JUAREZ had passed the frontier at Paso del Norte, and had gone to Sante Fé, was belied, in Mexico City, on the 30th ult. The Imperialist organs recorded it as the practical end of the Juarez resistance.

A party of Zouaves had attacked a band of Juarists under MENDEZ, and dispersed them, thus reëstablishing communication between Tampico and San Luis Potosi.

Various other small battles are reported as resulting favorably to the Imperialist cause.

From Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Thursday, Oct. 12.

The following are the resolutions indorsing the administration, which were tabled by a vote of 35 to 25 in the House of Representatives:

Resolved, That we do hereby approve and cordially indorse the Administration of ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, and hereby promise him our faithful and unflinching support in carrying out his policy in organizing the governments of the Southern States; that the letter of instruction to Gov. HOLDEN, of North Carolina, in which he declares that returned Confederate soldiers who have been paroled and taken the oath prescribed by him, and who do not come within any of the exceptions named in his proclamation of amnesty shall be restored to all the rights, privileges and immunities of full and complete citizenship, is a wise, just, liberal and statesmanlike policy, and contains the true solution of our present unhappy condition, and, faithfully sustained and carried out by the people, will lead us to peace, happiness and prosperity; that in our present difficulties we look to President JOHNSON with hope and confidence, and that we have full and implicit faith in his statesmanship and patriotism, and firmly believe that his policy, iron will and unyielding patriotism will restore order and fraternity among the people, bring peace to the country and prosperity to the nation. 4. That the Speaker of this House be requested to furnish a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and also that he furnish copies to each of the Governors of the several States of the Union.

The following resolutions were adopted in place of the above, by a vote of 60 to 4: That we indorse the administration of His Excellency, Hon. ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States; especially his declaration that treason shall be made odious and traitors punished.

He avowed previous to the election that he could not subscribe to the oath if elected. There is nothing definite from the other portions of the district, but CONRAD is probably elected.

RETURN OF HON. HERSCHEL V. JOHNSON FROM WASHINGTON—WHAT HE SAYS ABOUT PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

From the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, Oct. 3.

We have had the pleasure of a long interview with Hon. H. V. JOHNSON, who has just returned from Washington. He appears to be much pleased with his visit to that city. The President, he says, seems to be willing to do all he can for the South, and believes in kind and conciliatory measures. Of course, his policy is bitterly denounced by the radicals, and will be opposed by them when Congress assembles. Mr. JOHNSON thinks it the plain duty of the South to give all questions which will cause debate and excitement the go; simply do that which it is necessary to do in order to be admitted to Congress if possible, and unite in support of the President.

He also thinks it is the duty of every Southern State to elect men as members of Congress, whose antecedents can furnish the radicals with no pretext to oppose them taking their seats. He is of the opinion that the coming session of the National Legislature will be a turbulent one, and that a great deal will depend upon its action. He also thinks if the Southern States do that which is right, avoid all disturbance within their borders, and elect the right kind of men as delegates to Congress, that the conservative men of the North will force the radicals to give way and finally admit them, if they strive to keep them out at first.

Mr. J. says it is the opinion in Washington that there must soon be a change in the Cabinet. During his tour through the North he found there a great conservative element, which was in favor of treating the South kindly, and of having the most lenient measures adopted. He is of the opinion that the party was already in the ascendancy as far as numbers were concerned, and would make their strength felt at the coming elections. "But a great deal," remarked Mr. J., "a very great deal, in fact, all I might say depends upon the course pursued by our State Conventions, and by our own people."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

GENERAL NEWS.

We print this morning an important order by the Lieutenant-General, which will very speedily muster out of service nearly all the volunteer army. He has assigned the artillery for the most part to the forts of the Northern States; the forts of the Southern seaboard, with two or three exceptions, are to be in charge of colored troops. All the volunteer cavalry east of the Mississippi goes out of service forthwith. Other reductions are in progress, and it will not be many weeks, if nothing goes awry, before we shall be reduced almost entirely down to the regular army.

The Philadelphia Ledger has the following dispatch dated New-Orleans, Oct. 3: The ship Emma from this port, reported abandoned at sea, had on board a cargo of cotton valued at nearly a quarter of a million dollars, the greater part of which is understood to have been covered by insurance in foreign offices. Most of the cotton burned at Mobile is said to have been insured at the North. The China's advices produced considerable sensation in the cotton market here, and a general withdrawal of supplies until the full nature of the news could be developed.

Rochester University has received an additional endowment of one hundred thousand dollars. Of this amount twenty-five thousand were contributed by Mr. TRACY H. HARRIS, of the Madison-avenue Church (Baptist) of this city. The next largest subscriber is Hon. WILLIAM KELLY, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, for ten thousand dollars, and five hundred dollars is the smallest amount given by any one individual, except one of three hundred dollars and another of one hundred dollars.

Gen. FISK, agent of the Freedmen's Bureau in Kentucky and Tennessee, makes most favorable report of affairs under his supervision. The matter of subsistence at government expense is so far improved that where, on the 2d of September, nearly a thousand persons were subsisted, at the present day "not one ration is issued by the Freedmen's Bureau in Tennessee."

A drunken man from Alexandria visited the Executive mansion yesterday, seeking an interview with the President, but becoming disorderly, was ejected by the officer on duty. The latter had just turned to reënter the house, when the sentry noticed the man drawing a pistol and seized it. The man was taken before a Justice of the Peace and fined for carrying a concealed weapon.

The Boston Pilot states that a number of the friends of Dr. O. A. BROWNSON have presented him with a life annuity of one thousand dollars per annum. The Doctor is mainly indebted for this generous donation to Rev. I. T. HECKER, the Paulist Father.

San Domingo dates are to the 19th ult. President CABRAL has prohibited further issues of paper money, and efforts are making to restore the currency to a specie basis. A hurricane had visited the coast, doing great damage.

It was understood last night in Washington that the President was preparing an order putting an end to martial law in Kentucky. This is the result of long conferences with Gen. THOMAS, commanding the Department of Tennessee.

The island of Santa Cruz has been visited by a severe earthquake. Many houses were thrown down, but no loss of life is reported. The same shock was felt in San Domingo. A severe hurricane has also recently visited the West India Islands.

Gov. ANDREW, of Massachusetts, has appointed Thursday, the 30th of November, as the annual day of Thanksgiving and Prayer for that State.

Later intelligence from Hayti conveys the information of an attempted revolt in Port-au-Prince, in favor of the Ex-Emperor SOULOUQUE.

LOCAL NEWS.

The litigation going on in the Superior Court, before Justice MCCUNN and a jury, between the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Detroit, plaintiffs, and Messrs. BURR and ST. JOHN, defendants, was continued yesterday. Mr. DICKERSON was on the stand during the entire day, and his cross-examination had not been concluded at the time the court adjourned. From present appearances the trial will continue for several days.

Coroner WILDEY held an inquest, yesterday, over the body of WILLIAM PIGOTT, of No. 62 Mulberry-street, a youth of eleven years, who was mortally wounded while interfering in an affray on the night of the 30th ult., in his father's apartments. Under the verdict of the jury the Coroner committed to the Tombs JOHN VERNON as principal, and JOHN SHERRY as accessory.

About two hundred and fifty deaf and dumb children, accompanied by Prof. PEET and their teachers, visited the Fair of the American Institute yesterday, and were greatly interested by an inspection of the machinery and the various works of art now on exhibition.

Sir MORTON PETO, Mr. JAS. MCHENRY, and other gentlemen of the English excursion party, were the guests of the Travelers' Club last evening. They listened with much interest to an address on "The Geographical Problems and the Materal Condition of Peru," by Hon. E. GEORGE SQUIER, late United States Commissioner to that country.

The Tunisian Ambassador and suite yesterday visited Girls' Grammar School No. 47, in Twelfth-street, (Miss LYDIA F. WADLEIGH, Principal,) and also the Free Academy. The distinguished foreigners expressed themselves highly pleased with what they witnessed.

A suit of some interest to brokers was tried, yesterday, in the Supreme Court Circuit, before Justice SUTHERLAND and a jury. The parties were THOMAS HOPE, plaintiff, vs. CHARLES E. LAWRENCE and others. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for $765 89.

MARGARET CANFIELD, of No. 36 Cherry-street, was stabbed with a sword by her drunken husband, last evening. The husband was taken to the Oak-street Police-station, and Policeman JOHN TAGGART took the woman to Bellevue Hospital.

At the Paterson course yesterday the first race was won by Nannie Craddock, the second by Baltimore, and the third by Kentucky. The attendance was large and orderly.

The case of A. T. MCMULLEN vs. JESSE and ALFRED M. HOYT, reported in the TIMES of the 12th inst., has been determined by the jury rendering a verdict, yesterday, of $750 for the plaintiff.

The trial of ANN LOZIER vs. The Knickerbocker Stage Company was terminated, yesterday, by the jury rendering a verdict of $4,000 for the plaintiff.

Gold was steady yesterday at 145@145¼ per cent. The foreign Exchanges were weak. Government 5-20s, of both classes, in strong demand and upward in prices. The Railway Speculation opened firm, but later in the day a reported sharp demand for money among the Stock Brokers caused a reaction in the afternoon of 1@2 per cent. There is a growing disposition to fund the compound legal-tender notes of the United States into new 5-20 bonds, and there seems to be no question that the $50,000,000 proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury will be taken up by the 1st of November.

An improved demand prevailed for Produce, yesterday. Flour advanced 5c.@10c. ℔ bbl.; Wheat, 1c.@2c. ℔ bushel. Corn and Barley fell off 1c.@2c., and Oats 1c. ℔ bushel. Mess Pork was lower, closing heavily. Cotton steady. In foreign Merchandise there was less activity, without any material change in prices. Moderate Freight engagements were reported, chiefly Cotton and Breadstuffs, for British ports.

The Late Democratic Defeats.

The leaders of the Democratic party have been counting largely, since the close of the war, upon a popular reaction in their favor. Their calculation has been that their old friendly relations to the South would specially commend them for the work of reconciliation which is now the order of the day; and also that the prevailing prejudice against the colored race could be turned, by a little management, to their great profit. They have expected much, too, from the lack of harmony in the Union party upon some of the questions pertaining to reconstruction. This disagreement, they were indeed, quite sure, would greatly distract and impair the working force of the party, even if it did not absolutely rupture and paralyze it. They professed, too, to bury forever all the issues of the war, and to adopt heartily the entire reconstruction policy of President JOHNSON. They undertook these Fall campaigns upon new ground entirely, and ground, too, so chosen as to give their opponents as little advantage of position as possible. They have plied every art, exhausted all strategy to gain success. The result is that they have been overwhelmed in every field. In September, they were routed worse than ever in Maine and Vermont, and in October they are again severely defeated in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana. All their high hopes have been dashed, and they will go into their November fights demoralized and despairing.

The Chicago Platform party will in due time learn that all its new devices and protestations can amount to nothing in face of the impossibility of changing its personal identity. It calls itself "the Democratic party," which was formerly a name of honor; but no name can help it. If the wolf in the sheep's skin could have transformed himself into a veritable sheep, he might, in spite of past tricks, gradually have won confidence again. The trouble with this so-called Democratic party is, that no such transformation is possible. There is no science or magic that can convert it into a different party from that which framed and undertook to force upon the country the Chicago platform, which, had it prevailed, would have stopped the war, and either have destroyed the Union or given us a Union not worth the saving. It is amazing that this party can imagine for an instant that such recreancy as that can be forgotten by the people. Even amid all the shadows and gloom of that period, it was seen by the people to be an enormous crime, as their overwhelming condemnation of it at the Presidential election testified. In all the clear light of the present, in all the illumination which subsequent events have given and reflected back upon that period, this crime stands out in bolder relief, and excites deeper abhorrence than ever. It is impossible for the people to forget it; and equally impossible for them to bestow their confidence upon the party guilty of it. They will give that party their charity and their clemency, but they will not give it their trust. The Chicago Convention party is doomed to the same fate that crept upon the Hartford Convention party of the last war with England. The odium of its dereliction will cleave to it, and, like consuming canker, will make it weaker and weaker till it ceases to exist.

On the other hand, the whole tendency of things is to give the Union party greater compactness and vigor. The questions which have occasioned difference of sentiment are fast being settled by the logic of events, and the wise and faithful shaping of the policy of the government thereto. Whatever discussions may arise in Congress concerning them among the Union members will be maintained in the fairest and kindest spirit, and the final decision will receive universal acquiescence. There is not the slightest reason to look for anything else than the most complete coöperation between the Union majorities in both Houses of Congress and the President, in completing the great work of reconstruction. That work will be crowned with as signal success as was the prosecution of the war; and the Union party will obtain as much prestige from it. All the efforts of the Democratic party to take the management of reconstruction into its own hands, will be as futile as were its efforts to control the war. The responsibilities rest with that mighty political organization which has elected the men to administer and legislate for the government, and these responsibilities will continue to be discharged as faithfully as they ever have been through the most arduous trials. True to this patriotic course, it is morally impossible that it should commit suicide by internal dissensions, or that it should in any wise forfeit the confidence of the country. Every new success will only make it more harmonious and more compact, and the more firmly trusted.

Our Permanent Army—The New Measures for its Reduction.

A dispatch from Washington announces that Lieut.-Gen. GRANT has returned to the capital, and that he will now take measures for the reduction of the army to a standard required only for the ordinary condition of the country, in times of tranquillity at home and abroad.

We do not know Gen. GRANT's idea as to the size at which our army should be established, but from his sound, conservative and economical views of the administration of affairs generally, we judge it is not at all extravagant. We judge that not one-third even of the greatly reduced number of men now on the rolls will be required—probably not, in all, forty thousand; possibly, a smaller force even than that.

Even were there an insurrectionary spirit still in the South, instead of the universal feeling of acquiescence and contentment, a small army would suffice. Active disaffection in any State, would at once call forth martial law; and with this, a small military force could easily prevent insurrectionary combinations, crush out armed opposition at its inception, and make it impossible for rebellion to assume a formidable shape. With the possession of Charleston, Columbia and Florence, five thousand good troops would make even a general rebellious spirit in South Carolina of no avail whatever. And with prompt and energetic measures, forty thousand troops would be sufficient to hold and control the South, whatever might be its feeling. But, considering the perfectly peaceable condition of the entire mass of the Southern people, there is not the least likelihood of any measures of military repression ever being required.

As for the large number of troops now west of the Mississippi operating against, or threatening to operate against, the Indians, it is our opinion that it would be much more conducive to peace were the greater portion of them quickly recalled and disbanded. An officer like Gen. CONNOR, with a large number of troops at his command, is apt to consider it necessary to do something in the way of fighting to show that he and his forces are really needed; and it is always easy, whether or not it be always wise and humane, to get up quarrels and battles with one or other of the Indian tribes of the Western Plains. We could earnestly wish, in connection with this matter, that a soldier at once so consummate and discreet as Gen. GRANT, might devise some military policy of general application to the Indians. It is evident that we have never had any effective Indian policy, from the fact that we have been everlastingly at war with the race. The functionary who could establish one would be among our greatest benefactors.

It is a mistaken notion that the reduction of our army to the smallest limit possible will leave us in the same condition of military helplessness we were in before the war. In the first place, we have now enormous stores of small arms and ammunition, the lack of which was one of our greatest troubles when the war opened. We presume that our government now owns a larger number of muskets than are possessed by any other government in the world. In the second place, we have now a superabundance of heavy siege guns and field artillery, in which also we were terribly deficient four years ago. In the third place, and most important of all, there are now in the country (in the North alone) not less than a million and a half of able-bodied men, who have done duty in the field, who are thoroughly familiar with the use of arms, and who are capable of at once springing to arms in defence of our glorious flag.

These things render our military condition now very different from what it was in 1861; and in these and the other considerations mentioned we find abundant reason for believing that the Lieutenant-General will reduce our permanent military establishment to a size neither formidable nor expensive.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Despite the depression in foreign exchanges, and the stringency in money, the market for government securities was quite strong and buoyant yesterday, especially for the gold-bearing bonds, which, under an active foreign demand, were on the advance. The Sixes of 1881 improved ¼ to ½, and were in very light supply, as were also the first issue of Five-twenties, on which foreign orders mainly run. In the absence of an adequate supply of the earlier issue, the Five-twenties of 1864 were moderately purchased on foreign account, chiefly for the London market, at an average of 2 per cent. under the current price of the bonds of 1862, to which those of 1864 are precisely similar, save that the latter have absolutely two years longer to run before the redemption option of the government can take effect, a circumstance which home buyers for investment consider a decided advantage.

The turn of the foreign demand on the second issue of Five-twenties will doubtless, speedily equalize the price of the first and second series. A purchase of $50,000 worth of the Ten-forty five per cents at 94 was made, for shipment by Saturday's steamers, as an experiment. It is believed that the low price at which these bonds can be placed abroad will recommend them to popular favor. The Seven-thirties have been favorably affected by the improvement in the gold bonds, and yesterday were in fair request for investment at a shade better prices. Compound interest notes were in lively demand, and decidedly firmer, in view of the convertible privilege now available, which the recent advance of 1a2 per cent. in the earlier issues of the Five-twenties renders very attractive.

Amusements.

ITALIAN OPERA IN BROOKLYN.—"Poliuto" was given last night at the Brooklyn Academy to a house which, although not as large as usual, was a great advance on the average attendance of last season. The honors of the evening were fairly divided between ZUCCHI, MASSIMILIANI and BELLINI. At the close of the first act, BELLINI, who, suffering somewhat from hoarseness, was otherwise superb in matter and manner, was enthusiastically called out, and after the second act, which closes with a magnificent quintette and chorus, the three principal artists were called and recalled before the curtain. Rarely has an opera in its entirety passed with such absolute éclat; although by no means a favorite work with the patrons who reside in the City of Churches, "Poliuto" has by this night's production achieved an unprecedented success.

Brooklyn is peculiar; so are its people. They cry for KELLOGG as children are represented to petition for the soothing Winslow. Like an indulgent papa, MARETZEK gives them what they want, and on the next subscription night "Martha," with KELLOGG, PHILLIPS, IRFRE and ANTONUCCI, will be given. The Academy wont suffice to seat the audience—great is KELLOGG, but greater are the crinks and cranks of the patrons of the Italian opera in the pleasant City of Brooklyn.

EUROPEAN SOCIAL REFORMS.

Mr. Alderman Waterlow's Model Lodging-Houses.

It is a remarkable fact that the ordinary model lodging-houses for families in London are not materially in advance of our new tenement-houses in New-York. The English are by no means so particular in the matter of ventilation as we are compelled to be by our climate, and their plans of building, though presenting immense advantages over the plans of the little two-story houses in which the laboring classes usually live in England, are not generally so complete as we might reasonably expect. The rooms are often low, ill-aired and by no means cheerful, but their great superiority is in the cleanliness with which they are kept, and the check which can be exercised in them on over-crowding or immoral and filthy habits.

The houses which I shall briefly describe in this letter are however much superior to most of the model lodgings in London, and they present the especial point of interest in comparison with the best houses, such as the Peabody houses or those of Miss COUTTS, that they are a business venture, and pay.

Their plan is evidently to be the one in future adopted, as the Corporation of the City of London is building some similar, and there are already twenty-two blocks of these houses. Mr. Alderman WATERLOW, a man of much practical ability and humanity is the originator and founder of them.

I visited nearly all of them and examined them carefully—both the "Langbourne," (Mr. W. wisely avoids the name of "Model Lodgings,") in Finsbury-square, the "Cromwell," in Blackwall, the "Cobden," and those near King's Cross. The great external peculiarities of them are the outside stairway, which is adopted to save taxation, the flat roof for drying clothes, and the use of a new building material, which is claimed to save 25 per cent. of the expenses on ordinary stone or brick. The following is a description of this material by Mr. MAYO:

> "This new material is an extremely hard, durable and light artificial stone. It is composed of clinkers, culm, hard, broken coke, and similar rough porous calcined substances, in the proportion of four parts to one of Portland cement. Sufficient water is added to these materials to bring the composition, when well mixed up, to the consistency of ordinary mortar. It is then placed in moulds or troughs, for the purpose of giving to it any desired form, such as lintels, arches, chimney-pieces, stairs, window dressings and sills, slabs, &c., &c. In the composition of the tinted portions of the plan—the fireproof floors of the wash-houses, balconies and passages, and in the making of the flat roof, it is applied in the following manner: Bars of three-inch by half-inch iron are stretched edgewise across the building from front to back, at distances of two feet apart, and carried into the brickwork of the walls, so as to form ties, and bind the building into a solid mass. Half-inch iron rods, 2 feet apart from each other, pass through the iron bars already described, and beneath the network of iron thus formed a temporary layer of boards is placed, and then the patent material is filled in to a thickness of about 4 inches. In the course of a day or two the whole mass sets with sufficient hardness to allow of the removal of the boards, and after a week or ten days exposure to the air it becomes so hard and firm that it will stand any amount of pressure. Its extraordinary cheapness will be apparent when it is understood that the arches and lintels throughout the whole of the building have been supplied and fixed in their places at the cost of what would have been spent in labor alone if the ordinary brick arches had been employed. So that, practically speaking, the use of this material has effected a saving in the cost of the bricks and mortar that otherwise would have been employed in the arches, to say nothing of avoiding the loss of time that always takes place while an ordinary brick arch is being put in. With respect to the window dressings and sills it will, probably, be admitted that the use of the new material is a vast improvement on the ordinary York sills, and yet the moulded ornamental sill is actually the cheaper of the two. In the case of the chimney-pieces, too, a marked improvement is recognizable. The commonest Bath stone, got up in the plainest style, would cost about twice as much as those of artificial stone, with ornamental sunk panels, and as there are seventy fireplaces in the building, there is a great saving in the aggregate. The effect when these are painted to imitate marble is very tasteful. The Building Act renders it imperative to make the stairs of fire-proof materials; and when we compare the cost of the stairs formed of this material with the price of ordinary stone steps, the saving is found to be enormous. The patent material possesses all the advantages of appearance and durability of a Portland stone staircase, at one-fifth of its cost, and at half the price of even the commonest York staircase."

It should be observed, however, that this material has not as yet been tested by a wear of many years.

Of the plan of the buildings, we quote again:

> "Its general plan may be described as a parallelogram of 56 feet by 44 feet, divided into four sections by a party wall in the centre and the two passages in the middle of each wing. The two centre sections are set back about three feet from the line of frontage, for the purpose of giving space for a balcony of that width on each of the upper floors. Each section comprises one suite of rooms, to which access is obtained from the passage leading (on all the upper floors) direct from the balcony. The balconies are reached by a fireproof staircase having a semi-elliptical form, the entrances to which are shown on the elevation by the two doorways in the centre of the building. This staircase is continued to and gives access to the roof. The larger lettings, consisting of three rooms and a wash-house, occupy the end sections of the building. The living room is provided with a range having an oven and boiler. Leading out of the living room is the washhouse or scullery, which contains in every case what may be called the accessories of the dwelling—water cistern, sink, a small fireplace, washing copper, dust shoot, water-closet, &c. It is expected that the fireplace in the wash-house will conduce greatly to the comfort of the living room in the Summer time. There is one comfortable bed-room having a fireplace; a capacious cupboard is arranged in the party wall between this room and the entrance lobby, and over the latter is a useful receptacle for the stowage of bulky objects. Passing out toward the front parlor is a series of shelves having an artificial stone bottom and back, intended by its proximity to the living room to serve as a cupboard for provisions, &c. There is also a spacious handsome parlor having two windows: the fireplace is placed a little out of the centre of the room, so as to leave a convenient space in which to put an additional bed in cases where this would be required to be used as a bedroom. On the other side of the fireplace is a sideboard and cupboard.
> The plan is the same on each side of the party walls, and every floor or flat is a repetition of the other. Close to the ceilings of all the rooms a ventilator is placed, which communicates with air shafts running through the centres of the chimney stacks. The air is thus constantly rarified, and a system of natural ventilation is produced. Besides this, it will be seen that by setting open the windows, a current of external air can be at once passed through every room. The lower panes of the windows are filled in with ornamental ground glass, so that no window blinds are necessary. The windows are constructed on a somewhat novel principle, being made to open outward like ordinary French casements, but the two lower panes are not made to open, so that the danger of children falling out, as well as the disadvantages of the ordinary window sashes, are avoided. All the rooms are eight feet nine inches in height. Drainage is effected by means of four-inch stoneware pipes passing from the top of the building, down the corners of the wash-houses, directly to the common sewer. The dust shaft carries the dust to covered receptacles at the base of the building, and each shoot is provided with an iron cover so as to prevent the return of dust and effluvia. The dust shafts are also continued to the top of the building, and act as ventilators to the dust bins. The greater part of the rooms, especially the living rooms, have scarcely any external walls, so that they will be always warm and dry. All the rooms are plastered and papered, and the wash-houses are plastered and colored. Every tenant has his apartments entirely to himself, and nothing is used in common except the roof as a drying and recreation ground."

The rents are from 5s. to 7s. 6d. a week, and the rooms are accordingly designed for the better class of laborers, or even for mechanics earning good wages; the theory of Mr. WATERLON being that if you raise these, the class first under will take their dwellings, and so the whole scale be elevated.

The "Cromwell Buildings," which seemed to me the poorest of any of these, netted him eight per cent. He confidently expects nine per cent., and even more, from most of them.

The Finsbury-square houses cost £110 for each family, or £2,200 for the whole twenty sets of rooms.

All the expenses, with double the usual ground rent, are only £120; the rents, £309 8s., leaving a balance in his favor of £189 4s., or a profit of 8½ per cent.

The Corporation Buildings, erected much more expensively, though on a similar plan, at a cost of £38,000, will net five per cent.

Mr. WATERLOW has certainly the credit thus far, of solving the great problem of improved dwellings for the poor, by proving that a first-rate laborer's home can be built, with good ventilation, many conveniences, perfectly healthy and under a certain moral supervision (which is of immense importance to respectable laboring families,) and yet pay a fair profit (from seven to nine per cent.) on the capital invested. There are, of course, objections to packing so many people in one house, and, no doubt, many "model cottages" will be built to avoid this evil, (as have already been done with success,) but at least for us in New-York, Mr. WATERLOW has proved that our great tenement-houses (an unfortunate necessity) can be made healthy, neat, well-ventilated and after the best styles of building, and yet be remunerative. On London, too, he has conferred an immense benefit, and we may reasonably look in future for a much improved style of houses for the poor, especially as large districts will have to be stripped of a low class of cottages, by the new city improvements, and new houses must be built. OUR PARIS CORRESPONDENCE.

French Opinion on American Neutrality—The Fenian Excitement—Characteristics of the Paris Journals—President Johnson's Course Universally Approved in France—Our Financial Affairs Abroad.

PARIS, Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1865.

I need not tell you how surprised people are in France at the attitude of the American Government on the Fenian business. People who have guilty consciences naturally look for punishment. The English and French backed up our rebels openly and without shame, and they logically expect us to do the same for theirs. The English do not appear to be so much surprised, however, as the French, for their national egotism is enough to cover any case, and while rendering international injustice they expect, as a matter of course, international justice. In general, the conduct of the American Government is praised for its neutrality on this question, and its dignity and influence are elevated thereby. The Journal des Débats, which is generally sound on the American question, commits the inexplicable error of attributing the neutral conduct of the American govenment to fear!—fear that England may, under the new circumstances, join with the South and provoke another attempt at secession! The Patrie, faithful in its hostility to the United States, finds a way ready made for continuing its hostility even on the Fenian question. This journal has created a sort of specialty for defending oppressed nationalities; a specialty which it has taken up to save its diminishing circulation, and which it pursues without rhyme or reason or, without regard to the merits of the case. It defends indifferently the Sepoys and the Poles, the Van Dieman's Landers and the Hungarians, the Schleswig-Holsteinese and the Venetians, the Irish and the rebels of the South. So that it was quite enough for the Patrie to know that the American government was going to remain neutral on the Irish question for it to repeat its old charge of despotism and illiberalism so often found in the columns of that journal during the war against the Southern rebellion. The Constitutionnel, like the London Morning Post, has astonished people by the handsome manner in which it speaks of the United States in connection with the Fenian movement; but this paper, anxious to make a point against those of its cotemporaries who are always holding up English institutions as a model for France, points with exultation to the suppression, manu militari, of the Fenian organ, the Irish People, as a proceeding quite as violent and antiliberal as anything which has been seen in France under the Second Empire. The writer goes further, and lectures the English for condemning the measures of rigor in force in France, and then, when the first necessity arises, for practicing in their own country the same measures of rigor. The Constitutionnel does not disapprove of the act of suppression performed at Dublin; on the contrary, the doctrine is taught that the end justifies the means, and that, in moments like that, there is only one sure road to the maintenance of order. Of course the Constitutionnel does not pretend to recollect that during the four years of civil war in America, it preached doctrine exactly the opposite of this, and never omitted to stigmatize the efforts of the American Government to preserve order at the North and to put down rebellion at the South, as illegal, violent and tyrannical. The Constitutionnel and London Times and Post also forget, perhaps, what a cry of indignation they uttered when a price was placed on the head of the flying chief of the rebellion, JEFF. DAVIS; and yet they find it quite natural that the English Government should offer a reward of £200 for the Fenian STEVENS. Thus what was barbarian, illegal, violent and tyrannical in America, is civilized, legal, just and humane in Europe. The moral of all this is, while the American press has been growing dignified and honest, the European press has been growing venal and false: that while the conduct of the government of the United States has been open and square, that of the governments of France and England has been double, dishonest and microscopically small. Each is destined, fortunately, to reap the fruits of its respective position.

The speech of President JOHNSON to the representatives from nine Southern States has been generally published, the official paper being the first one to translate it, and meets, as it ought to do, a universal approval. A Paris correspondent of the Independence Belge gives in the following words, what is undoubtedly a true view of the situation:

> "President JOHNSON," says this writer, "is at this moment in full favor with our government people. The change of feeling which has taken place in the minds of our public men toward the new President of the republic is not, however, astonishing. It is the natural consequence of the reaction which took place here when it was seen that the party chief who had excited so many apprehensions for his presumed attitude on interior and exterior affairs suddenly showed himself, when in power, as a man full of good sense and moderation. It is not surprising, therefore, to hear it said that all the dispatches from the Marquis DE MONTHOLON contain the most favorable expressions toward President JOHNSON and his government."

A most interesting meeting of bankers has just taken place at Frankfort, to hear a speech on American affairs from Mr. LANIER, the banker, of New-York, who is acting abroad as an agent of the Treasury Department to give information. The explanations of Mr. LANIER at this important meeting, appear to have given great satisfaction, for at Frankfort, as you know, the greatest interest is taken in our affairs, and information from a gentleman of Mr. LANIER's position would therefore fall like manna to the starving tribes of Israel—in more senses than one. In this meeting the statement was made authoritatively by a prominent banker of Frankfort, that the amount of Federal bonds held in that city and neighborhood would probably reach three hundred millions, and that nearly every bond held on the continent was held at or near Frankfort.

Among other important propositions Mr. LANIER will carry home for the consideration of the government, is one which touches us nearly at Paris, and which we have long urged in vain. The American Government possesses but one financial agent abroad, and that agent is not only in an out-of-the-way place for the Continent, but he is besides an Englishman. The house of BARING BROTHERS, of London, is charged with the duty of paying all the debts of the American Government abroad, and of collecting all its dues, and in this capacity sometimes holds millions of dollars belonging to the Treasury at Washington in his hands. As far as this goes—that is to say, to receiving and forwarding money, and in keeping accounts with the American Legation and Consulates over the Continent—there is not so much to be said, though even these complain at the location of this agency, and at the fact of its being in English hands. But the principal objection is that a financial agency of the government is needed where every one may go to find and be sure to receive information on American financial affairs, and where government stocks may be purchased. While, therefore, it might be well to maintain the BARINGS as agents of the government, it is imperiously demanded that the government should establish at this central point a financial agent who shall be an American, and whose duty it shall be to pay the diplomatic corps on the Continent, keep the accounts with them and with the Consuls, dispose of American stocks, and give information to governments and bankers on the condition of home finances. Such an agent will cost the government nothing, because there are plenty of bankers who will be glad to accept the position, and the services he will be able to render the government are incalculable. The astonishing thing is to all who know the need of such an agency, how the government has managed to get along without it.

The American Legation has just been moved to No. 13 Rue du Centre, on the corner of the Avenue de Friedland.

Mr. HARRINGTON, resident Minister to Switzerland, and family, have arrived here on their way to Berne.

KINGS COUNTY POLITICS.

Democratic City and County Nominations—Who and What they Are—The Senatorial Candidates of Both Parties—The Nominations Complete and the Canvass Open.

The Democratic nominations in Kings County and Brooklyn are identical with the suggestions made in the TIMES several weeks since, commencing with the name of MARTIN KALBFLEISCH for Mayor. In this county the Democracy have in former years been bitterly divided. The regulars and nationals and citizens and soreheads have fought each other with a zeal that in a better cause would have merited success. Two years ago MARTIN KALBFLEISCH was Mayor of Brooklyn. The Democracy didn't fancy his way of doing things; he was of the one man party, and always wanted to be the one man himself. The consequence was that although the "old man," as his intimates call him, strained every nerve to secure the nomination, he was defeated by Mr. BENJ. PRINCE. Not content to abide by the dictate of his party convention, KALBFLEISCH kicked the traces and ran an independent ticket. Col. WOOD was the Union nominee, and fairly swept all before him, so that on the day after election, Mr. KALBFLEISCH was found in the pitiable plight of a Democrat who had violated Democratic usage, a candidate rejected by the people, and a politician outside the ring of the faithful.

He was subsequently elected to Congress. His record there is not known to many people. Those who watched his course knew that he utterly and absolutely fizzled, making no mark in any way, divided from his colleague, ODELL, on the all-absorbing topics, influential with none, and not renominated by his party. He is now before the people of Brooklyn as a candidate for the Mayoralty. The parties who two years ago were his most virulent and abusive opponents are now in the ranks of his supporters and friends. What cause can be assigned for this change is for them, not us, to say. Mr. KALBFLEISCH's friends claim that his administration will be economical, beneficial to the tax-payers, and for the best interests of the city.

His Republican opponent, Mr. BOOTH, we have before this introduced. He is not so well known to the politicians, perhaps, as Mr. KALBFLEISCH, but as a large tax-payer, it is fair to infer that he will be as anxious to keep the taxes as low as practicable. As Alderman and Supervisor, he has served his constituents with rare fidelity, and with an earnest intelligence not often found among officials. With the party which has nominated him, Mr. BOOTH has been a firm adherent to the cause of the Union in days of darkness and of gloom. He has given his time, his talents and his money in the furtherance of the interests of the government; has devoted weeks and weeks to the recruiting business, and secured many thousands of soldiers for the reinforcement of our Generals. His friends are confident of success, and although the Democracy, snuffing the spoils of place, present for the first time in years an unbroken front, it is deemed not improbable that with the name of so honest and capable a man at the head of the ticket, success may result to the Republican cause.

THE COMPTROLLER.

Mr. THOMAS H. FARRON is nominated. Mr. FARRON is a Democrat of the purest ray serene. He holds the office at present, and so far as we know, does its duties well. We should be loath to repeat the objections that are urged against Mr. FARRON by men prominent in his own party, and occupying positions of influence. If the feeling of hostility to Mr. FARRON politically at all parallels with sundry sentiments made known to us concerning him personally, we shall not be surprised to hear of his defeat.

Mr. BOGGS, the leading man of the Brooklyn Union, is the candidate on the Republican ticket. Mr. BOGGS will have to work very hard to approach Mr. FARRON's vote. He and his immediate supporters and friends are sanguine, but we know the power of the Democratic organization in our sister city, and do not deem it the part of wisdom to disregard it.

It was long since a foregone conclusion that, however the several Democratic factions might feel about harmonizing on the whole ticket, there would be no dispute among them about the policy of presenting the name of Judge MORRIS as a candidate for

DISTRICT-ATTORNEY.

As we predicted, he received a unanimous nomination, and will undoubtedly be elected. Mr. SANDERSON, his opponent, is a good lawyer, a fair man and a favorite speaker. He possesses certain social advantages, which may aid him somewhat in the race, but to assure victory he will have to prove himself a magician worthy of rivaling HERMANN, the prestidigitateur.

There are to be chosen

from this county at the coming election, and it is well for the interests of the people that the conventions of both parties, knowing the uncertainty of the districts, have put forward their very best men. It would be difficult to select four more competent men in the county than the four Senatorial candidates as follows:

Republican.	Democrat.
Henry R. Pierson,	Gen. E. C. Pratt,
Gen. Crooke.	Henry C. Murphy.

Mr. PIERSON is one of the best known and most popular residents of the county. Identified pecuniarily and personally with several of its most prominent public works, gifted with marked ability in the management of men and measures, experienced in public debate, and possessed of unbounded good nature, he enters the canvass with many elements of success.

His opponent, Gen. PRATT, is a good lawyer, a popular citizen, and a soldier whose gallant record during the war did honor to his city and county. He will give Mr. PIERSON a strong pull, and is the only man in the Democratic party who could cause the Republicans the least uneasiness. As it is, the probabilities are in favor of Mr. PIERSON.

In the other district Gen. CROOKE is confronted by HENRY C. MURPHY. Mr. MURPHY is the present Senator, has served his city, county, State and country in varied capacities, and is very strongly supported by men of all parties. Gen. CROOKE is an earnest worker, a strong thinker an active politician and an efficient Supervisor. The contest in this district will be close, with the odds in favor of Mr. MURPHY.

The nominations are now before the people, the canvass has begun, and from this to the day of election, excitement and enthusiasm will reign in and about the good and bad people of the City of Churches.

BROOKLYN CITY POLITICS.—The Third Ward Union Convention last night nominated Mr. CHARLES S. FROST for Alderman. The name of the Union nominee for Assembly in the First District is JOHN OAKEY and not JOHN K. OAKLEY, as printed in the TIMES yesterday.

CITY POLITICS.

The Union League Club and the Election.

At a regular monthly meeting of the Union League Club, held at the Club-house on Thursday evening, Oct. 12, 1865, the following preamble and resolutions, offered by GEORGE W. BLUNT, were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The Union League Club was established for the purpose of encouraging loyal sentiments, and to aid the government in putting down the rebellion and restoring the Union; and whereas, the armed power of the rebellion has been crushed out and the work of restoration is going on, as we trust, successfully; and whereas, a delegation of this club appointed to attend the funeral of the lamented Mr. LINCOLN, did, at an interview with President JOHNSON, assure him of their confidence, and that the members of the club would coöperate with and aid him in his endeavors to reconstruct the Union and restore harmony to the country; and believing that such coöperation is to be effected by giving his administration a generous confidence and active support, it is therefore

Resolved, That this club will support, to the best of its ability, at the coming election, the ticket nominated at Syracuse, as its nominees and its supporters are the original and tried friends of the Union and the enemies of the rebellion.

Resolved, That we invite all the members of this club to aid our brethren in New-Jersey of the same political faith, in endeavoring to carry the State in the November election, in favor of the Constitutional Amendment, that all hope of the restoration of slavery may be extinguished.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chair to coöperate with the Union State Committees of the States of New-York and New-Jersey in carrying into effect the above resolutions.

Resolved, That these resolutions be printed in the newspapers, and that a copy be sent to the President of the United States.

OTIS D. SWAN, Secretary.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIR.

Visit of the Deaf and Dumb—Interesting Exercises.

Yesterday was indeed a gala occasion at the Fair of the American Institute. Early in the morning, crowds, many hundreds, of people who had learned from the TIMES and other journals of the anticipated visit of the deaf and dumb children to the fair, thronged the building. We have never, save on one or two evenings, saw the large halls so densely packed as at this time. Messrs. CARPENTER, CHAMBERS, TILLMAN, BRIDGMAN and other of the managers, radiant with the flush of success, and decorated gaily with the roseate cockade, had their hands full to keep the passages clear, while the good-looking M. P.'s, who were just as good-natured and complaisant as they were on the night of the opening, were more than busy in preserving order.

At about 11 o'clock, Prof. PEET, of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, arrived, accompanied by several teachers and two hundred and fifty of the pupils, who ranged in years from ten to twenty. The next three or four hours were passed by these curious and inquisitive little people in examining, noting and comprehending the mysteries of the fair. They seemed particularly pleased with the machinery department, and hung about the sewing machines for a long time. The photographs and other pictures delighted them, and it was sadly interesting to watch the eager anxious expression of their faces as one would explain to the other the beauties or advantages of any particular object.

They looked at and smelled of the flowers, examined the photographs, touched the keys of the pianos, felt of the garments made by the knitting-machine, looked with perfect astonishment at the tremendous volume of water that is forced up by the pump in the corner, tasted with evident delight the viands prepared on the patent steam-stove, rode on the rocking-horses, accepted miniature horse shoes that were made for them on the spot from straight, stiff pieces of lead, wondered at the brick machine, stood with unconcern and indifference at the side of the shrieking steam-whistle, drank soda-water by the quart, tested the spring mattresses, looked languishingly at the pretty girls who work the sewing-machines, passed hastily by the ugly ones, were, in fine, delighted and transported by what they saw, and evidently regarded Messrs. CARPENTER & Co. as the greatest philanthropists this side the flood.

At 4 o'clock, or thereabouts, Mr. CARPENTER mounted the platform, followed by Prof. PEET and half a dozen male and female pupils. Instantly some five or six hundred visitors gathered about in expectation of an exhibition. Mr. CARPENTER explained that Prof. PEET would draw from the deaf mutes certain indications of intelligence and observation from which the audience could infer the progress made by them. The first pupil was a bright-eyed young boy whose countenance was all aglow with the excitement of the occasion. The Professor made certain signs to him which he instantly interpreted, writing the explanation on a blackboard. Prof. PEET then spelled out lion, tiger, cat, dog—at each of which the little fellow gave in pantomime a most lifelike and interesting solution.

A young lady of about 20 years, then gave in pantomime the sign language of a bit of descriptive writing, after which, Prof. PEET read an address of thanks to the managers, which was written at the time by one of the girls.

Other and similar exercises followed, showing to what a remarkable degree the senses of sight and smell were cultivated, and with what readiness and facility the pupils understood and answered all explanations.

A more interesting scene we have rarely witnessed.

TO-NIGHT

Prof. LOWE is to deliver a lecture on the science and practice of ballooning, at the Institute, after which he will send up a model balloon, drawing the same down by means of a jolly and wonderfully excited little engine.

TO-MOROW AFTERNOON

there will be a race between men wearing one and two artificial legs; the same will be held at night.

THE WOMAN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

Close of Its Labors—Brief Resume of Its Work, Its Field and Its Agencies.

The Woman's Central Association of Relief has closed its mission. Of the many benevolent organizations developed by the necessities of the war, this has been one eminently useful, invariably successful, always judicious and never selfish. It was begun in April, 1861, and in June of the same year it took voluntarily a position subordinate to the Sanitary Commission, devoting itself with fidelity and zeal to certain specialties. It proposed to open a central depot in the City of New-York, for the collection of hospital supplies; "such supplies to be delivered solely upon requisition from the Sanitary Commission, or to agents authorized by it." The manner of obtaining these supplies was left to the association. This agreement, of mutual benefit, continued until the day of the association's dissolution, and was of great and patent service to the army and its friends at the North desirous of assisting its members. We find that the association has received and distributed, since May 1, 1864, the following enormous

Shirts—Cotton, 151,167; C. woolen, 11,010; woolen, 129,298; drawers, cotton, 65,294; C. flannel, 21,068; woolen, 79,648; socks, 125,818; slippers, 29,428; wrappers, 16,808; handkerchiefs, 169,811; coats, 3,983; pantaloons 4,688; bed ticks, 20,370; pillow ticks, 16,297; pillows, 34,510; pillow cases, 69,619; sheets, 60,962; blankets, 7,358; quilts, 26,408; towels, 122,727; cushions, 32,305; lint, bbls., 536; bandages, bbls., 461; old linen and cotton, bbls.,698; beef stock, lbs., 7,834; groceries, lbs., 23,392—bbls., 31; dried fruit, bbls., 1,692; fresh fruit, bbls., 271; jellies, jars, 18,132; pickles, kegs, bbls., boxes, 1,296; vegetables, 410 bbls., 571 cans; condensed milk, lbs., 13,770; domestic wine, bottles, 9,218; imported wines, bottles, 2,475; whisky, casks, 2, bottles, 3,858; brandy, bottles, 4,762; blackberry brandy and cordial, bottles, 10,409; bitters and Kissingen water, bottles, 2,281; raspberry vinegar, kegs, 2, bottles 1,118; reading matter, boxes, 500; sundries for hospital use, 154; havelocks, 5,259; flannel bandages, 6,940; mittens, 7,086; musquito nets, 3,561; fans, 7,443; arm slings, 1,834; comfort bags and needle cases, 7,460; ale in barrels, 37; crackers and dried toast, bbls., 98; tea in half chests, 14; con. lemonade, cases, 70.

The society employed nine canvassing agents, whose duties in the field and in the country were laborious and resulted in great benefit to the soldier. These gentlemen delivered in the State of New-York and Connecticut alone 369 lectures before the public, informing the popular mind upon the many points of interest connected with the army and its necessities. There were 813 contributing societies, not including those who sent through the centres of collection. Of these 375 were furnished with material for distribution at half price, the balance being made up by the pecuniary donations to the parent society. The number of places—cities, towns, villages—that sent contributions during the existence of the society, was 1,920.

In closing up its work the society, in an address to its patrons and friends, suggest that the following classifications of

be adopted:

1. The care and support of totally disabled men who may need it; and assistance to the widows and orphans of soldiers requiring aid.
2. The collection of claims through the Army and Navy Claim agencies of the Sanitary Commission.
3. The finding of suitable employment for partially disabled men.
4. The visiting of any neighboring military hospital or "home," and the furnishing of such supplies as may be desirable.

And in this connection it is stated that the following agencies are established by the commission in this city, and may therefore be relied upon.

Army and Navy Claim Agency, No. 35 Chambers-street.

Bureau of Employment, No. 35 Chambers-street.

Soldiers' Home, No. 45 Grove-street.

Headquarters of Sanitary Commission, No. 823 Broadway.

The Document Department have distributed 98,984 pamphlets, reports and books of different sorts.

During the last year of the society's existence, the Purchasing Committee furnished 366 Aid Societies with material to the amount of $78,800 84, most of which was paid for at the rate of fifty cents on the dollar, while $15,302 25 worth was given gratis.

The Committee on Special Relief in the same period assisted 849 persons, expending $1,490 96 on burial and other fees, and distributing a quantity of clothing and food, delicacies and necessaries absolutely startling in proportions.

Mr. H. POTTER, the Treasurer, reports that in the years 1864-1865 he received $91,854 75 in donations, total receipts $97,122 64, of which he paid

To Supply Committee	$12,475 00
To Purchasing Committee	78,177 24
To Special Relief Committee	1,490 96
Total	$92,143 20

and the balance was expended in correspondence, expressage, rent, insurance and advertising.

The report of the Treasurer from the date of the society's organization to its dissolution, shows that he received in all donations to the amount of $140,777 14. Of this he gave:

To Supply Committee	$43,584 92
To Purchasing Committee	79,390 57
To Special Relief Committee	1,673 12
To Correspondence Committee	3,115 36
To Express Companies	8,117 41

the rest being expended in ordinary routine necessaries.

It would be difficult to find among the many estimable organizations originated during the war, one which has done more on less capital, or one to whose conductors and directors the army and the nation owe so much.

The National Game.

EXCELSIOR VS. BALTIMORE AND PHILADELPHIA CLUBS.

On Tuesday morning the Excelsiors left Washington for Baltimore, and at 3 P. M. began play with the Pastime Club, of that city, on their grounds near Druid Park. Only six innings were played, the result being a very creditable victory for the Excelsiors by a score of 51 to 22. They were the recipients of the most courteous attentions at the hands of the gentlemanly Pastimes, and hope to be able to return them next year on their own grounds. The following is the score:

The result of the match was the success of the Athletics by a score of 45 to 11, the Excelsiors playing below the mark of either of their previous games, though in some of the innings their in-fielding was excellent. ECKFORD VS. ATLANTIC.

The grand match between these clubs to-day will probably attract the largest crowd of spectators ever seen on the Union Ball Ground. The fine play shown by the Eckfords in their late games with the Atlantics, Mutuals and Empires, and their victories over the two latter, makes it a questionable matter whether they will not be equally successful in this game. The match will commence at 2 P. M. Previously a picture of the ground is to be taken for Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.

The accused was committed in default of $1,000 bail.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE LATEST SIXTH-WARD HOMICIDE.—Coroner WILDEY held an inquest yesterday over the body of WILLIAM PIGOTT, of No. 62 Mulberry-street, a youth of eleven years, who was mortally wounded while interfering in a fight between JOHN SHERRY and JOHN DELANY. The testimony shows that, on the night of the 30th ultimo, JOHN DELANY, of No. 3 Franklin-street, called at No. 62 Mullberry-street to see SHERRY, and that at the moment of his entering the door an assault was made, and DELANY was knocked to the floor and jumped upon by SHERRY and one JOHN VERNON. DELANY escaped into PIGOTT's room, and was pursued by SHERRY and VERNON, the latter having a knife in his hand. The fight was resumed here, and Mr. PIGOTT, father of the deceased, was severely beaten, Mrs. PIGOTT was stabbed in the neck, DELANY received a severe cut on the head, and young PIGOTT was mortally wounded. The jury found that "WILLIAM PIGOTT came to his death by a stab wound with a knife, at the hands of JOHN VERNON," and further they held JOHN SHERRY as an accomplice. VERNON is a native of Ireland, aged twenty-one years, and by trade a printer. SHERRY, also a native of Ireland, is thirty years of age, and a blacksmith. Both have been committed to the Tombs.

THE JUBILEE YEAR.—This being the fiftieth year of the existence of the American Bible Society, the Board of Managers determined to celebrate it as a Jubilee year. Part of the plan of celebration is a series of discourses in reference to the Bible, to be preached in different churches in the City of New-York, which it is hoped may be repeated elsewhere. The clergymen selected are of the several principal denominations coöperating with the society. The sermons are to be preached once a month, in such churches as may hereafter be designated. The following gentlemen have been selected, and have signified their acceptance: Rev. Dr. Wm. Adams, Dr. Vermilye, Dr. Williams, Dr. Hodge, of Princeton, Dr. Storrs, Dr. A. H. Vinton, and Dr. Ferris; and Rev. Bishop Simpson is expected. The first sermon in the series is to be preached by Rev. Dr. ADAMS, in his church in Madison-square, on Sabbath evening, the 15th inst., his subject being "The Advantages of a Written Revelation."

ASSAULT WITH A SWORD.—Last evening PATRICK CANFIELD, of No. 36 Cherry-street, assaulted his wife with a sword, and but for the interference of the neighbors, might have killed her. As it was, he cut her left arm severely. Policeman JOHN TAGGART, being summoned, took CANFIELD to the Oak-street Police-station and the wounded woman to the New-York Hospital, whence, after her arm had been dressed by Dr. SEGUINE, she was sent to Bellevue. CANFIELD was inebriated at the time of the assault.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

ROBBED.—Dr. CHARLES A. VAN ZANDT, a respected citizen of the old sort, made the acquaintance of a young fellow who accompanied him to his home in Schermerhorn-street on Thursday evening. While looking for his night key the chap tore his watch from the chain and made off with it. It is valued at $70.

Williamsburgh.

CAPTURE OF A RIVER THIEF.—A man giving his name as AMOS NICHOLSON, was up before Judge DAILEY yesterday on a charge of grand larceny. It seems that early the previous night some citizens observed a boat with two men in it at the foot of Noble-street, Greenpoint, and they watched for a short time the action of the men, which soon became apparent. Thinking they were unobserved, the river thieves, as they proved to be, commenced to take on board their boat a large quantity of pig-iron. Citizen WILLIAMS interfered at this juncture and twice discharged his revolver at them. One of the thieves then jumped on shore and escaped. The other was captured and locked up during the night, and taken before Judge DAILEY as we have stated. His examination was postponed until to-day.

A JEALOUS LOVER STABS HIS RIVAL.—A young mulatto named WM. C. HARE, residing in University-place, New-York, was taken before Judge DALY yesterday, on a charge of stabbing another mulatto named JOHN B. GRIPTON, doing business at No. 172 Myrtle-avenue, Brooklyn. The deadly assault took place on the front platform of a Greenpoint car, the night previous, in Kent-street, Greenpoint. Jealousy was the cause of the outrage. It seems that a young lady named HARRIET MCKINNEY, of Charleston, S. C., is on a visit to these parts, and during her sojourn has captivated the two gallants named above. HARE was her first lover, he says, and GRIPTON caused him to be dismissed by the fickle maiden for selfish considerations. Hence the fierce revenge. A full hearing will be had this morning.

LAW REPORTS.

Trover and Conversion—Important to Brokers.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT.

Before Justice Sutherland and a Jury.

Thomas Hope vs. Charles E. Lawrence et al.—The plaintiff in this case, a corresponding clerk for A. T. Stewart & Co., employed the defendants, doing business as brokers at No. 15 Wall-street, to purchase some gold on his account, they holding forty-five shares of stock of the Merchants' Bank as collateral security. On the 11th of January last, they purchased $5,000 at the market rate, 222¼, and on the 27th the plaintiff called at their place of business, when they advised him to leave the same sold, if the price that day should rise from 212¼ to 217.

He left with the understanding that they were to sell in case the rate reached 217, which it did before evening, but on calling the next day found the gold had not been sold from the fact that the market looked strong. Some days afterward, gold having declined, the defendants notified the plaintiff that they would deliver it to him providing he paid $12,282, the balance of account in their favor, and in case he did not the gold would be sold at public auction. On the 4th of February the defendants made the sale at the Merchants' Salesroom, on Broadway, receiving $10,381 25, the admitted market rate being 207⅜.

There being a further balance in favor of the brokers of some $1,900, they again notified him that if that was paid the stock held as collateral would be delivered to him, but if not it would be disposed of at auction, which was accordingly done as to thirty-five shares on the 11th; the amount received therefor being $2,030. After deducting the expenses of the sales, the balance in favor of the plaintiff was $69 82, which with the ten remaining shares were tendered him, but which he declined to receive.

This action was brought to recover on the ground of conversion of the stock.

The defendants set up that it rested entirely in their discretion whether they made the sale of the gold or not, and endeavored to show by a letter written by the plaintiff soon after the 27th of January, that they were to sell if the price rose about to 217.

The jury found for the plaintiff a verdict for $765 89.

Charles E. Lawrence for plaintiff. John Sedgwick and A. H. Wagner for defendants.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Recorder Hoffman.

PICKING POCKETS.

William Mulligan was tried for stealing $160 30 from William Masters, in the liquor-store corner of Eleventh-avenue and Forty-first-street. The complainant went into the store, was asked by the prisoner to drink; took a soda-water, in which the prisoner put Bourbon whisky; fell asleep soon after, and when he awoke his money was gone. The bartender was asked by the prisoner to help in picking the complainant's pockets, but refused his aid and said if it was done he would tell. He went into the yard a few moments, and when he returned prisoner was sitting by the complainant, the latter's pocket-book being half in and half out of his pocket; the prisoner left, and the bartender told the proprietor what had occurred.

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and he was remanded for sentence.

John Brown, a well-known pickpocket, was tried for stealing a watch from the person of a young lad named James Walker. It appeared from the evidence of the complainant that he was standing on a Fourth-avenue car, and that prisoner and an accomplice got on the car, one on each side of him. While one of them attracted the lad's attention by a feint upon his pantaloons pocket, the other thief adroitly abstracted the watch from his vest pocket, and ran away. The complainant was an unusually intelligent witness, and upon his evidence alone the jury convicted the prisoner without hesitation. It being well known to the authorities that Brown was an old thief, Recorder Hoffman sent him to the State Prison for five years.

William Herring was placed on trial for stealing some wearing apparel from the room of Patrick Dowling, but the evidence against him being so unsubstantial, the prosecution abandoned the case.

PLEADED GUILTY.

Edward Loss, of an attempt at grand larceny, committed on the 14th of June, in taking $300 worth of cloth, belonging to David Hart. Penitentiary one year.

Benjamin Jackson and Benjamin Northrup, of an attempt at grand larceny, in taking, on the 26th of September, various articles, amounting to $130, the property of John N. Wilson, of No. 267 West Tenth-street. Penitentiary one year.

Court of Special Sessions.

Before Justices Kelly and Dowling.

POVERTY COMPELLED HIM TO STEAL.

Augustus Starr, a well-dressed young gentleman, was charged with the larceny of a coat, the property of John W. Hoffman. The offence, legally, was attempted burglary. At 3 o'clock in the morning he was caught by complainant picking the putty from a pane of glass of the stateroom of the barge Jefferson, that lay at the foot of Warren-street. He intended to noiselessly remove the glass, and thus burglariously effect an entrance. He was only charged with the attempted larceny of a coat, although if he had been successful, he would have obtained several hundred dollars' worth of property. When arrested, and asked by Capt. Hoffman what he meant to do, he said: "Steal, Sir; I am like a good many others who have spent their money, and I have been driven to it." He wanted to know what security would be required to let him go. Guilty—Penitentiary six months.

WEARING THE PROCEEDS OF A BURGLARY.

On Saturday evening last, the office of Mr. Charles W. Blanchard, No. 189 East Fourteenth-street, was burglariously entered and robbed of everything that could be carried off conveniently. On Monday morning complainant met the prisoner, Charles Burns, an old offender, wearing a pair of shoes, worth $8, that had been stolen from the office. There were some peculiarities about the shoes that could not escape the attention of Mr. Blanchard. The accused was convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary for six months. Prisoner is well known to the police, and was, during the war, a notorious bounty-jumper. At one time judgment was suspended on condition that he joined the army. He did enlist, but never went further than Hart's Island, from which he deserted, to resume again a life of crime.

A SIMILAR CASE.

John Moon alias Gallagher, a noted Sixteenth Ward thief, was arrested by Capt. Hedden, charged with stealing two coats worth $35, the property of Philip McDonald. The coats were taken from a saloon. The loss was reported at the station-house and the Captain found that Moon had passed the night in a lumber-yard, where he had left behind him some papers belonging to Mr. McDonald. This gave a clue to the thief, and when Moon was arrested he was wearing one of the coats that had been stolen.

Guilty; Penitentiary six months.

HOTEL THIEVES CAUGHT.

Wm. Haley, a laboring man, was convicted of stealing a carpet-bag, the property of Pitellius Gager, of Philadelphia. Prisoner was seen around the hotel at which complainant had put up, and the carpet-bag lay beside the counter from which it was stolen. When arrested, Haley was wearing a pair of pantaloons belonging to Mr. Gager. Penitentiary three months.... John Reed, Charles Davis, and John Thompson, all young men, well dressed, were accused of robbing the hotel, No. 279 Greenwich-street. The prisoners registered themselves at the hotel, and took rooms. Reed was caught going out of the hotel with some property of the proprietor, James J. Barr. Reed was convicted, and sent to the Penitentiary for six months. It was not shown that there was any concert of action between Reed and the other two, who were acquitted. After their acquittal, an officer conducted Davis and Thompson into the Police-court, when a new charge, that of carrying burglars' tools, with intent to commit a felony, was made against them. Half an hour afterward they were again arraigned and tried. The proof was that they left their rooms in their stocking-feet, and tried the locks of four different rooms. When searched, a pick-lock was found in their possession. Penitentiary six months each.

THE COST OF A COMPLIMENT.

Michael Martin, Michael Keegan and Robert Craft, hard working mechanics, were charged with assaulting John McEwain, policeman. The officer said he was standing at Peck-slip with his wife waiting for a Second-avenue car. He was not in uniform. While standing there, his wife a few feet apart from him, he saw Martin go round and front his wife, turn his face under her bonnet, and almost kiss her, at the same time say, "O, my dear." The officer immediately resented the insult by making a pass at Martin, but missed him, when Martin returned the blow and knocked him down, and Keegan kicked him. Craft, who happened to be with them, but did nothing, was acquitted. Martin and Keegan, who belong to Williamsburgh, gave excellent character. The one was fined $30 and the other $20.

ROBBED WHEN ASLEEP.

Robert Wallace, a seaman, fell asleep on the Battery, and was robbed of $60 by Patrick Donohue, a boy.... Clement Gould, while taking a sail on the Staten Island ferry-boat fell asleep on the lounge and was awakened by Jacob Scheflan trying to unhook his watch. The prisoner is a very old offender. Penitentiary six months.

ADVERTISING.—There is no doubt that the great lever in the extension of a business, in these go-ahead times, is advertising; but the immense popularity of that celebrated remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility, &c., Hoofland's German Bitters, is not so much owing to the fact that it has been extensively advertised, as it is to the great merit of the article.

A worthless medicine may, through publicity, acquire a short-lived notoriety, but it requires the basis of true merit, in order to sustain itself for any considerable length of time. Hoofland's German Bitters have been known to the American public for more than twenty years; each day adding some new proof of their virtues and great curative properties. These Bitters are for sale by all druggists. They are not a spirituous drink.—Ottawa Mercury.

The Horrors of Indigestion.

You complain of your stomach, unfortunate dyspeptic; but ought not your stomach to complain of you? Possibly the pangs you endure are simply the stomach's method of taking revenge upon you for neglecting and abusing it. Perhaps you have never made an effort to improve its condition, but on the other hand are continually cramming it with unwholesome and incongruous food. Have you ever tried HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a proper diet, and regular meals? The Bitters in a week would put your digestive apparatus in perfect order, regulate the flow of bile in accordance with the laws of health, and produce just so much aperient action as would be necessary for your good; and when you were once all right, judicious and regular dieting, with a little of the Tonic now and then, would keep you so. If you have neglected these means of cure, don't blame your stomach for its rebellion. It is merely nature's hint that she wants help. If you neglect it, the next thing may be Inflammation, or Scirrhus Cancer, or some other violent and dangerous disease. There is such a thing as being too late in these matters. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS will cure Dyspepsia; but Dyspepsia may engender diseases which defy all restoratives.

PROPOSALS FOR FUNDING
CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS, COMPOUND INTEREST NOTES AND TREASURY NOTES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29, 1865. }
By virtue of the authority contained in the first section of an act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide ways and means to support the Government," approved March 3, 1865, which provides, among other things, that any Treasury Notes, or other obligations bearing interest issued under any act of Congress, may, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, and with the consent of the holder, be converted into any description of bonds authorized by said act, notice is hereby given to the holders of Certificates of Indebtedness which mature before the 1st day of January next, of Compound Interest Notes, and of one and two year Treasury Notes, of the readiness of this department to give in exchange for them, to the extent of fifty millions of dollars, six per cent. Five-Twenty Year Bonds at three per cent. premium; that is to say, one hundred dollars of bonds for each one hundred and three dollars in certificates and notes; provided the conversion is made prior to the 1st day of November next.

The bonds issued in exchange for such certificates and notes will bear an interest of six per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually in coin, upon the first days of May and November, and will be redeemable at the pleasure of the government after five years, and payable in twenty years from the first day of November, 1865.

The coupon and registered bonds issued under this proposal will be of the denominations of one hundred, five hundred and one thousand dollars. Registered bonds of five thousand and ten thousand dollars will be issued if desired.

Holders of certificates, compound interest or Treasury notes, who desire to make such conversions, will deliver them to the Treasurer, the Assistant Treasurers or the designated depositaries of the United States, or to any national depositary bank which may consent to transact the business without charge.

Interest will be allowed on certificates of indebtedness, and one and two-year Treasury notes matured or maturing prior to the first of November, 1865, up to the date of maturity, and when maturing after the first of November, interest will be allowed to that day.

Upon the compound interest notes the interest will be computed to November 1, 1865, upon the amount of principal and interest compounded on the back of said notes, from the period next prior to that date.

The principal and interest of such Treasury Notes and obligations will be considered together as an offer for conversion, but when, after deducting the principal of the Bonds, and three per cent. premium, there remains a fractional part of one hundred dollars, this fractional part will be paid to the depositor.

The Secretary reserves to himself the right of withdrawing this proposal at any time prior to said first day of November, provided fifty millions of dollars shall, prior to that date, be offered for conversion as aforesaid.

Circulars of instructions will be transmitted to the various officers authorized to receive certificates and notes, to which attention is invited.
H. McCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

Chapter 325.
AN ACT
To provide the means of paying bounties authorized by law, and of reimbursing municipalities for bounties paid by them in pursuance of law, by creating a State debt for that purpose; and to submit to the people the question of creating such debt, and to repeal certain sections of chapter twenty-nine of the laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-five.
Passed April 7, 1865; three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. To provide the means of paying all bounties authorized by law to be paid by this State to volunteers, drafted men or substitutes, and to provide the means of reimbursing cities, counties and towns for bounties paid by them to volunteers, drafted men or substitutes; so far as the bounties so paid by them are authorized by a law of this State, to be reimbursed or refunded to them, a debt of this State is hereby created and authorized to be contracted, which debt shall be for the single object of paying, reimbursing and refunding the said bounties.

SEC. 2. The debt hereby created and authorized to be contracted shall not exceed the sum of thirty millions of dollars, and there shall be imposed, levied and assessed, upon the taxable property of this State, a direct annual tax, to pay the interest on the said debt, as such interest falls due, which said direct annual tax shall be sufficient to pay such interest as it falls due. And to create a sinking fund for the payment of said debt, there shall also be imposed, levied and assessed, upon the taxable property of this State, a direct annual tax to pay, and sufficient to pay, in the space of twelve years from the time of the passage of this act, the whole of the debt created and contracted under and by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 3. To obtain the money necessary for the purposes contemplated by this act, the Comptroller is authorized to issue the bonds of the State, in such sums each as shall seem meet to him, with coupons thereto attached for the payment of the interest on such bonds, at a rate not exceeding seven per centum per annum, half yearly, on the first days of July and January, in each year, until the principal thereof is payable, at such place in the City of New-York as shall seem meet to him, and the whole principal shall be payable in such place in New-York City as the Comptroller shall deem meet, in twelve years from the passage of this act. The bonds to be issued by the Comptroller, under the provisions of this act, shall be disposed of by the Comptroller as follows: First, he shall, as soon as may be after the approval of this act by the people, issue at par to the holders of any of the revenue bonds of this State, which, under the provisions, of any law of this State, shall have been theretofore issued by him to raise moneys for the payment of the bounties specified in the first section of this act, or to reimburse or refund to cities, counties, or towns the bounties paid by them, as specified in the first section of this act, so much of the bonds authorized by this act as shall equal in amount the revenue bonds of this State which shall have heretofore been issued by him, as aforesaid. Second, he shall then, as to the remainder of the bonds authorized to be issued by this act, before disposing of them or any of them, advertise for proposals for the same, and shall open the proposals and award the same to the highest bidder, at a rate not less than par, which advertising and disposition shall be according to the provisions of law now existing.

SEC. 4. This act shall be submitted to the people at the next general election to be held in this State. The inspectors of election in the different election districts in this State shall provide at each poll, on said election day, a box in the usual form, for the reception of the ballots herein provided; and each and every elector of this State may present a ballot which shall be a paper ticket, on which shall be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, one of the following forms, namely: "For the act to create a State debt to pay bounties," or "Against the act to create a State debt to pay bounties." The said ballots shall be so folded as to conceal the contents of the ballot, and shall be indorsed, "Act in relation to bounties."

SEC. 5. After finally closing the polls of such election the inspectors thereof shall, immediately, and without adjournment, proceed to count and canvass the ballots given in relation to the proposed act, in the same manner as they are by law required to canvass the ballots given for Governor, and thereupon shall set down in writing, and in words at fullength, the whole number of votes given "For the act to create a State debt," and the whole number of votes given "Against the act to create a State Debt," and certify and subscribe the same, and cause the copies thereof to be made, certified and delivered, as prescribed by law in respect to the canvass of votes given at an election for Governor. And all the provisions of law in relation to elections, other than for military and town officers, shall apply to the submission to the people herein provided for.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of State shall with all convenient dispatch, after this act shall receive the approval of the Governor, cause the same to be struck off and printed upon slips, in such numbers as shall be sufficient to supply the different officers of this State concerned in notifying or in holding elections, or in canvassing the votes, and shall transmit the same to such officers.

SEC. 7. This act shall become a law when it is ratified by the people in pursuance of the constitution and the provisions thereof.

SEC. 8. Sections eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve and thirteen of chapter twenty-nine of the laws of eighteen hundred and sixty-five are hereby repealed.
Yours, respectfully,
CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW,
Secretary of State.

MEDICAL.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 195 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

A. M. MAURICEAU, PROFESSOR OF midwifery and operating surgeon, having over thirty years' successful practice in this city, guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities and obstructions in females, without pain or exposure, with or without medicine. Can be consulted with the utmost confidence at his private office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York, or by mail.

Dr. A. M. Mauriceau is the author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," strictly intended for those whose health and circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family; a perusal of which will convince any lady of his thorough knowledge of her complaints. Every lady who has it is secure from danger and imposition. Price $1. Sold at his office No. 129 Liberty-st., or sent by mail, by addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. Sold also at No. 1 Vesey-st., New-York; in Boston, No. 13 Court-st.

CHLORODYNE.—EARL RUSSELL HAS FAvored J. T. Davenport with an extract of a dispatch from Mr. Webb, H. B. M.'s Consul at Manila: "The remedy most efficacious in epidemic cholera has been found to be Chlorodyne; and with a small quantity I have saved several lives." Caution.—Chlorodyne.—Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. Browne was undoubtedly the inventor; eminent hospital physicians of London prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, Jan. 13, 1864. It is affirmed by medical testimonials to be the most efficacious medicine for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spasms, Rheumatism, &c. No home should be without it. J. T. DAVENPORT, No. 33 Great Russell-st., London, sole manufacturer. Observe, none genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Stamp. Agent, J. S. ASPINWALL, No. 36 William-st.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. R. CORBETT can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on private diseases at his conveniently-arranged suite of offices, No. 20 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., having a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place. From Dr. C. being one of the oldest, and probably the only qualified physician and surgeon in this city who makes diseases of the genitourinary organs a specialty, he is thus enabled to guarantee speedy and permanent cures, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, seminal weakness, nervous and general debility treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—Dr. C.'s diplomas, in his office, as member of the New-York University Medical College, and College of Surgeons, London. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8½ P. M.

THE TURF.

Paterson Races—The Last Day of the Meeting—Brilliant Closing Scenes—The Wealth and Intelligence of the Racing World Fully Represented—Complete Success of the Meeting—Nannie Craddock Wins the Hurdle Race, and Kentucky the Three-Mile Heats.

Yesterday was the last day of the Paterson Fall Meeting, and with it terminates the racing season in the North.

The final day of the Paterson Meeting was as prolific of sport as either of the others, and the same unqualifiedly admirable management, good order and perfect decorum prevailed throughout. It was hardly to be expected that there would be a correspondingly large attendance with the previous day—for that was unprecedented—and the gathering yesterday was equally unusual for the closing day of a meeting at this late season of the year.

The morning specials of the Erie Railroad were again crowded. The grand stand was fully occupied by elegantly dressed ladies and their attendant cavaliers, while the family and field stands presented a brilliant aspect, the centre of the course and inclosure being well filled with vehicles. The general theme during the morning was the great revival that has taken place in racing, and its brilliant prospects in the future, coupled with the meed of just praise to the Paterson Association for having initiated it, and the regret that there was not another day or two's racing to ensue, ere the season closed.

It is gratifying to know that the financial results of the meeting were of the most satisfactory description—exceeding in amount those of either of the previous meetings of the association. We say satisfactory, because the profits are devoted to the development of the course, and the arrangement of new and tempting stakes, so that sport may progress with the resources of the management of the course.

The association has already been notified that many large additional stables from the South and West will soon be in transit for Paterson to winter there, and such a gathering of racing stock as this locality will present, has never been equaled in the North.

As will be seen by our summary of the day, Nannie Craddock added the hurdle race to her victory in the steeple chase, and Kentucky made the three-mile-heat race a mere canter for himself. The last race was a most exciting affair, and the most keenly contested race of the meeting.

FIRST RACE.

Hurdle race; a handicap for all ages; $400 to winner, $100 to second horse; no entrance fee; two miles over eight flight of hurdles.

A. Smith enters ch. m. Nannie Craddock, aged, weight 160 lbs.......................... 1
D. Ready enters b. h. Zigzag, aged, weight 164 lbs. 2
Evans & Francis enter ch. h. Nightlock, 4 yeaas, weight 130 lbs.......................... 3
Dr. Underwood enters b. g. M. D., aged, weight 140 lbs.......................... 4
D. Ready enters b. h. Copeck, 5 years old, weight 158 lbs..........................dr.

Time.—First mile, 2:10; second, 2:01; total, 4:11.

Betting.—Nannie was the favorite. In the final pool she brought $100 to the $85 for Zigzag, the $55 of Nightlock, the $14 of M. D. and $10 for Copeck, which relative prises had been pretty closely observed in the previous sales. A level start was effected, Nannie immediately going in front, and leading two lengths over the first hurdle, with M. D. second, Zigzag third, and Nightlock fourth in the rear, in which order they took the second hurdle at the quarter pole, and again at the half-mile jump, where Nannie led M. D. two lengths, the latter being the same distance in front of Zigzag, Nightlock being far behind. There was not the slightest change at the fourth hurdle, but passing the stand in the first mile, Zigzag drew by M. D., and was second over the fifth hurdle, Nannie still leading. The sixth was taken in the same order, but nearing the seventh, M. D. gave out, and Nightlock took the third place, Nannie leading three lengths with Zigzag second. There was no subsequent change, Nannie never being approached, and coming home the easiest of winners by three lengths; same distance between the second and third. The winner was in splendid fix, and exhibited thorough gameness; not so Zigzag, who appeared stiff and sore, and went short. Pepper rode the winner; Fisher, in the absence of Dennis Ready, Zigzag; Leary Nightlock, and Lawler M. D.

Time—First mile, 1:54¾; second, 1:54¼; total, 3:49.

Baltimore was a great favorite against the field. Pools sold just prior to the start, Baltimore, $500; Oliata, $105; Lady Dan, $88. Still later: Baltimore, $525; Oliata, $60, and Lady Dan, $70. Oliata went off with the lead, Lady Dan second, with Baltimore last. At the up turn the Lady went to the front, arriving at the quarter pole two lengths in front of Oliata, with Baltimore last, on the qui vive. In the interim Baltimore changed positions with Oliata, which was again reversed. They ran on even terms some distance along the backstretch; at the three-quarters Oliata led Baltimore two lengths, Lady Dan close up. Reaching the homestretch, they all came in a cluster. In passing the stand for the second mile, Baltimore took the lead, Oliata second, Lady Dan in the rear. Baltimore now continued the lead throughout, and won easily by two lengths. Good running was made by the Lady and Oliata for the second place; Dan, however, proved to be the fleetest, coming home half a length in front of Oliata. The run up the homestretch was most exciting, going neck-and-neck alternately.

THIRD RACE.

Premium of $700 for all ages; three-mile heats.

TIME:

First mile, 1:50; second, 1:51; third, 1:58½; total, 5:39½.

Betting $100 to $15 on Kentucky. At the start Fleetwing took the lead, but Kentucky came up with him, and passed at the first turn. A good run was shown on the backstretch, after which Kentucky kept the lead by about one to two lengths. At the finish of the first mile he was one length in front; at the finish of two miles he was leading two and a half lengths, and came home for the three miles two lengths ahead, under a strong pull. Time, 5:39¼.

Private Match.—Single dash of one mile.

Time—2:16¼.

Betting, at one time, was even on Monmouth against the field; afterward, Throgsneck was held in good repute. We give two pools to show the variation: Monmouth $300, Aldebaran $158, Throgsneck $130, Climax $50, Lady Dan $12, Monmouth $260, Throgsneck $225, Aldebaran $61, Climax $20 and Lady Dan $10. The horses were started from the three-quarter pole, from which Aldebaran took the lead, Monmouth second, the others all together. In passing the grand stand, Throgsneck was in front, with Monmouth second, Aldebaran third, Climax fourth and Bryant behind. At the quarter, Throgsneck still kept a lead, being one length in front of Aldebaran, with Monmouth third, Climax fourth, and Lady Dan Bryant running loose in the apple-orchard, having thrown her rider at the three-quarter pole. Throgsneck continued the lead, winning cleverly by a length, Monmouth a good second, Climax third, and Aldebaran fourth. Time—2:16¼.

Dissatisfaction of the Post-Office Clerks.—The recent assessment of two per cent. on the salaries of the clerks in the Post-office is subject of bitter complaint. Several of the seven-hundred-dollar clerks allege that the deduction has left them without sufficient means to meet current expenses; and as the last money assessed at the Navy-yard is to be restored to the involuntary contributors, the Post-office clerks are anxiously looking for an order requiring the refunding of their money.

For Key West.—The steamer Gov. Marvin sails to-morrow, with one hundred and twenty mechanics and laborers, for Fort Taylor, Key West. These laborers and mechanics are sent out by direction of Capt. W. McFarland, United States corps of engineers, the officer in charge of the fortifications at Key West and Tortugas.

Thursday, Oct. 12—P. M.

The price of Gold varied but slightly to-day from yesterday's quotation of 145 ℘ cent. The sales were 145@145⅝@145¼ ℘ cent. The foreign Exchanges for Saturday's steamer, and for the French steamer sailing on Friday, were weak at 109@109¼ on London, and 5 francs 20 centimes@5 francs 18⅞ centimes on Paris. The Importers are holding off as buyers, while Cotton and other Produce Bills are coming in quite freely, both of Southern and New-York drawing. There is also a considerable amount of 3-day sight Bills making against United States 5-20s, and the sum total would be much larger but for the scarcity and rapid advance to 105¼ ℘ cent., ex-coupon, of the old Bonds. We have reason to suppose that some parcels of the new 5-20s have been taken for London, and these have advanced to 103⅛@103¼ ℘ cent., ex-coupon. There is a corresponding rise in Compound Legal Tenders for funding into new 5-20s, and the issues of June to December, 1864, have gone up fully one ℘ cent. since Monday. The inducement to fund these Notes on the rise in 5-20s is taken advantage of by the Brokers in all the large cities, and telegraphic orders were in town to-day for Philadelphia account. The buoyancy is quite general in all Government Securities, notwithstanding the reports of the Money Market are less easy than on Wednesday, and there was a sharp demand to-day to carry the Railway speculatives.

The market for the latter at the Stock Exchange opened with rather a buoyant demand early in the forenoon, and a good business was done at the first regular Board. The temper of the market was reversed at the 1 o'clock Open Board, and prices gave way 1@1½ per cent. on Erie, and ½@1 per cent. on other descriptions. The amount of Money brought into the Street by the advance of rates to 7 per cent. is large, but some of the old lenders are said to be calling in their accommodations to the Stock Brokers, either to buy Government Stocks or prime Merchant paper.

At the Second Board there was some eagerness to put out lower sales on the Railways, both on the New-York and Western lines; the short sellers relying upon the effect of the squeeze in Money, and some of the Bull holders of Stocks disposed to meet the market at the decline on the morning prices. Erie was off 1½@2 ℘ cent.; New-York Central, 1@1¼, and the Western Roads in proportion. United States 5-20s were 105¼@½ for the old, and 103⅛@¼ for the new issue. The highest Street purchases were at 105½@103½, free of brokerage.

At 4 o'clock the following quotations were made on Broad-street, the market closing with a downward tendency:

We understand that the Board of Directors of the Chicago and Rock Island Company have appointed a Committee of three of their number to negotiate for the purchase and consolidation of the Mississippi and Missouri Road, to which the Company have already made considerable advances of money.

The shares of the McGregor Western Road are now dealt in at the Stock Exchange. The line runs west from Prairie du Chien, and is under a favorable permanent (or thirteen years) traffic arrangement with the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien Company into whose Second Preference Shares the mortgages are prospectively convertible at par, and with whose Common Shares the McGregor Stock is prospectively convertible at the rate of two for one, provided that within three years after their own bonds are extinguished (in 1866) the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien Company elect to purchase the McGregor road out and out. The new road is being built at a cost of $18,000 Mortgages and $22,000 Stock per mile. Fifty-one miles are now in operation and sixty-nine miles in progress.

Attention is directed to the programme of the Harmony Mutual Coal Company, for the supply of coal at cheap rates. Mr. David B. Turner is the President, and associated with him in the direction are Messrs. Henry Smythe, John P. Yelverton, F. Schuchardt, Martin Balts, N. Chandler and W. H. Townsend.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Receipts, $5,168,640 76; including for Customs, $414,000; payments, $4,634,148 50; on account of Loan, $74,660; balance, $69,622,947 62.

Voluntary Assorting House.

From the New-York Journal of Commerce.

The Bank officers [favoring the assorting of National Currency] were convened yesterday at the American Exchange Bank, to consider a plan for a constitution presented by a committee appointed at a previous meeting, held 26th ult. Mr. James Gallatin, Chairman of the committee, and on their behalf, submitted the constitution:

1. The name of the association shall be the National Bank Note Redemption Association.

2. The object of the association shall be the establishment of an Assorting-house in the City of New-York, for the assorting and redemption of National Bank notes, under the direction of a committee of nine bank officers, who shall be elected annually by the banks associated for that purpose.

3. A manager, and such clerks as may be necessary, shall be appointed annually by the committee; the manager to have charge of the details of the Assorting-house, and shall be subject to and under the control of the committee.

The salary of the manager shall always be fixed by the association, and those of the clerks by the committee; the manager to give a bond with sureties in the sum of $10,000, and each clerk in the sum of $5,000, to be approved by the committee.

4. The association at present consists of the following members. [Names not given.]

5. Such National Bank notes as the members of the association may desire to deposit with the committee for redemption shall be received by them, to be delivered to the manager, (under such restrictions as the committee may deem necessary for the safety and protection of the banks,) to be assorted and forwarded for redemption to the banks issuing the same, or to their redeeming banks, except such banks as redeem in New-York, Boston or Philadelphia, those redeeming in Boston and Philadelphia to be sent to the banks issuing the same, to their redeeming banks, or to the Assorting-house in those cities, and those in New-York through the Clearing-house, as hereinafter provided.

6. The committee shall be empowered to issue receipts for the deposit of National Bank Notes, said receipts to be signed by at least three of the committee, and countersigned by the manager.

7. The committee to have a desk assigned them at the Clearing-house, through which the retirement of certificates and the redemption of notes redeemable in New-York can be made daily.

8. The expenses of the Assorting-house, of the committee, and for the redemption of notes shall be paid by each bank availing itself of the privileges in exact proportion to the amount delivered to the Assorting-house, to be drawn for by the committee on the first day of each month, or as soon thereafter as the expenses can be ascertained and apportioned.

9. Should any bank fail to redeem its notes when presented for that purpose by an agent of the committee, said committee shall have power to take such action as they may deem necessary for their redemption under the National Banking Law, and the loss or expense attending such action by said committee shall be borne in the same manner and proportion as the regular expenses of the Assorting-house. Should any loss occur from fire, robbery, defalcation, or from any other cause not provided for in this constitution, such loss shall be borne pro rata, to the amount received from each bank, based on the day's receipts on which the loss occurred.

10. Bank notes redeemable at New-Orleans, Leavenworth, San Francisco, or any other point south of Cairo, west of the Mississippi River, unless redeemable in the City of New-York, shall not be received by the Committee for Redemption, and should any such notes be found in the packages deposited for assorting and redemption, such notes shall be returned by the committee to the bank from whom they were received.

11. All deposits of currency made with the committee must be in sealed packages, of not over five thousand dollars, except packages containing notes of the denomination of fifty dollars and upward, which may be put in packages of ten thousand dollars or twenty thousand dollars each, and in all cases in even thousands, distinctly marked with the amount, the name of the bank depositing them, and bearing its seal; and all such deposits must be made before 10 o'clock A. M. on each day. Reclamations can be made for amounts short, counterfeits, &c., at any time previous to the cancelation of the certificates issued for the packages from which the reclamation is made.

12. Each bank belonging to the association may be represented at all meetings thereof by one or more of its principal officers, and shall be entitled to one vote.

13. A general meeting of the association shall be held the first Wednesday in November in each year, at 12 o'clock M.

14. At every annual meeting a chairman shall be elected, by ballot, to preside at that meeting, and all subsequent meetings during the year. Whenever he shall be absent, a chairman pro tem. shall be appointed. At the same meeting a secretary shall also be elected by ballot.

15. Special meetings shall be called by the committee, whenever they may deem it expedient, or whenever they shall be thereto requested by any seven of the associated banks.

16. At all meetings of the association, a quorum for the transaction of business shall consist of a majority of the whole number of associated banks.

17. New members may be admitted into the association at any meeting thereof. Such new members shall signify their assent to this constitution, in the same manner as the original members. But no new members shall be admitted except by a vote of three-fourths of those present; such vote to be taken by ballot.

18. A standing committee of five bank officers shall be appointed at every annual meeting, to whom all applications for admission into the association shall be referred for examination.

19. For cause deemed sufficient by the associated banks, at any meeting thereof, any bank may be expelled from the association and debarred from all the privileges of the Assorting-house, provided a majority of the whole number of associated banks vote in favor thereof.

20. Any member of the association may withdraw therefrom at pleasure, first paying its due proportion of all expenses or losses incurred, and signifying its intention to withdraw to the committee.

21. Amendments of this constitution may be made at any meeting of the association, by the vote of a majority of all the members thereof, notice of the proposed amendments having been given at a previous meeting.

I may here refer [added the Chairman] to its practical working, when all the arrangements are completed. It will be understood at once when the system goes into operation that all bills will be taken at par, and that such as are redeemed at par in New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, will be sent to the several agencies in those cities for redemption, and when redeemed those agencies will do with the bills just what they please—either pay them out at their counters or send them home. All other bills not redeemed in some one of the centres of trade will, of course, be sent home for redemption at the counters of the banks.

New-York State Debt and Taxation.

Comptroller's Office, Albany, Oct. —, 1865.

At the general election in November, the electors are to decide whether the large amount of bonds issued for bounties under the laws of the last session of the Legislature, shall be paid at once, by direct taxation, or shall become a State debt, payable in twelve years, with interest at seven per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually. For the purpose of enabling the people to act intelligently upon this question, the following statements are published:

The circular issued from this office to the Board of Supervisors in each county, requires the following taxes to be levied in pursuance of the laws referred to:

"For Schools, ¾ of a mill, per Chapter 555, Laws 1864.
For General Purposes, 2½ of a mill, per Chapter 709, Laws 1865.
For Canals, ⅞ of a mill, per Chapter 85, Laws 1865.
For Canals, ¼ of a mill, per Chapter 271, Laws 1859.
For Extension of Chenango Canal, 3-16 of a mill, per Chapter 185, Laws 1864.
For Champlain Canal, 1-10 of a mill, per Chapter 186, Laws 1864.
*For Bounties, 1¾ per cent., per Chapter 56, Laws 1865.

*If a majority of votes shall be given at the general election in November, in favor of creating a debt for the bounties, this item will be omitted from the tax levy, and a circular directing its omission will be issued from this office."

The advantage of paying the debt at once will be, that it will be paid in the same currency in which it was contracted, the credit of the State will be restored to what it was before, and the people will be saved from paying a high rate of interest for twelve years, and then paying the principal, as is most probable, in specie or its equivalent. If the debt could have been confined to ten or twelve millions of dollars, as was originally estimated, it would undoubtedly have been wise to pay it by a tax which would not have exceeded three-fourths of one ℘ cent.; but it has gone up to $23,963,000, and will probably be increased to a somewhat larger amount, and, as will be seen above, the tax required to pay it will be 1¾ ℘ cent. This will be a very heavy amount to be paid in a single year. It is, therefore, submitted, without the expression of any opinion, for the people to decide whether they will vote for the debt, and pay it with interest in twelve years, or against the debt, and pay the whole amount in one year. Chapter 325, Laws of 1865, prescribes the form of the ballots to be used in voting upon this question.

If the majority shall be against the debt, then the whole tax will be 22 13-80 mills upon the dollar; if in favor of the debt, the tax will be 4 53-80 mills upon the dollar.

The total assessed valuation of the State, as fixed by the Board of Equalization, is $1,550,879,685, being an increase of $49,879,808 over the valuation of 1864.

It may be pertinent to add the present debt of the State, exclusive of bounty bonds, is, including canal and general fund debt, $25,634,539 86. It has been reduced since 1860 to the extent of nearly $8,000,000, and would be wholly extinguished within aboat ten yeaas if the bounty debt should not be added to it. If that shall be approved, estimating the amount at $26,000,000, the total amount of the State debt will be $51,634,539 86.

The canal revenues have fallen off largely during the last fiscal year, and fail to make the usual annual contribution of $550,000 to the general fund, and render heavy taxation necessary for the support of the canals.

The table appended hereto, shows the aggregate valuation of the real and personal estate in each county for the years 1864 and 1865 respectively. It also shows, in one column, what will be the amount of the tax upon each county if the debt shall be rejected, and in another column what will be the amount if the debt shall be approved.

LUCIUS ROBINSON,
Comptroller.

LUMBER—Is in reduced supply and fair demand at buoyant price. In Albany, according to the Evening Journal, "the receipts of lumber do not keep pace with the demand. Spruce Shingles and Clear Pine are very scarce, and only to be obtained as they arrive. Sales have been active and the shipments large. Freights, both on lakes and canals, are advancing, and prices, both on this account and because of the anticipation of short supply, are going up.

The receipts by the Erie and Champlain Canals during the first week in October in the years named were as follows:

Tierce Beef is unaltered. Butter continues in fair request at 40c.@50c. for poor to good, and 52c.@55c. for fancy State, and 32c.@42c. for Western ℘ lb. Cheese has been in demand at 14c.@18½c. for poor to very choice, ℘ lb. The week's business in Butter and Cheese, Messrs. Starin & Floyd notice thus:

The receipts of State Dairy Butter have been ample during the past week. Western Butter, of all grades, continue in very light receipt, with small stock on the market. A number of invoices of Canada Butter have made their appearance in the market, and have readily commanded from 35c.@40c. ℘ lb. The market has been gradually hardening during the week, and a heavy demand has prevailed for California and the South at full prices, sufficient to clear the market of all the surplus stock. City dealers and the local trade, which have been holding back from purchasing their supplies, are now forced into market, and find but a small stock to make selections from. The demand for Butter for the Eastern States is unusually heavy this season, owing to the great drouth that still prevails through those sections, and which has cut off the make of their home supplies. The range of prices for Butter in this market at this date, is lower than at any other point in the country, and the dairymen who now hold butter, are demanding prices that would prevent its being put on this market at a profit. The prospects are decidedly against any fall in prices, while the chances as decidedly point to an advance. The market closes with great firmness:

The receipts of Cheese, of all grades, continue very light, and although the demand for England is generally suspended, on account of high prices, the supply is not equal to the demand. A heavy demand has prevailed during the week for local trade for consumption and the South, and all parcels arriving have been promptly taken at full prices. We note an average advance of ½c. ℘ lb. on our last week's quotations, and at the close a market bare of stock. We quote:
